

Bucking state results, Wilmington chooses Healey

Bucking the statewide results, Wilmington goes for the Republican candidate

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Tuesday's State Election may have chosen Deval Patrick for Governor, but Wilmington voters chose Kerry Healey in a narrow 181 vote margin. According to Town Clerk Sharon George, voter turnout came in at 8,833 or an unofficial 58.5% of registered voters as of late Tuesday evening. Additionally, all three ballot questions failed in Wilmington, reflecting the overall choice of state voters.

In a campaign marred at once by negative ads, questionable backings, and uncertain policy stances, the Governor's race, in the end, wasn't even close. A twenty point spread between the candidates remained in place for most of the night. Candidate Christy Mihos, an independent, received 7% of the state vote and Green-Rainbow Party candidate Grace Ross garnered just 2%. In Wilmington, the vote went 4038 to the team of Kerry Healey and Reed Hillman and 3857 to the team of Deval Patrick and Tim Murray.

The Boston Globe called the contest at 8:19 p.m. and Healey delivered her concession speech at 9:30 p.m. Patrick delivered his acceptance speech just before 11:00 p.m., following speeches from Senators John Kerry and Edward Kennedy, and Lieutenant Governor Elect Tim Murray. Patrick called on supporters to "build bridges" to supporters of all the gubernatorial candidates and thanked them and Governor Romney for their "service to the Commonwealth."

Wilmington voted along the lines of most of the rest of the state for the remainder of the ballot. For locally contested offices, Wilmington chose Salem Democrat John Tierney over Republican Richard Barton for his sixth term representing the Sixth District in the U.S. House of Representatives. Mary Ellen Manning won another term as Fifth District Councilor to the Governor's Council over Independent Timothy Houten.

Running unopposed were Bruce

A unified vision for proposed interchange

Three communities working together

By JAYNE W. MILLER

TEWKSBURY - Planning directors and town leaders from Tewksbury, Wilmington and Andover got together last week with representatives from the Cecil Group, a planning and design firm out of Boston, to begin a dialogue for the development of the Lowell Junction Interchange.

The Lowell Junction area of Andover, located between exits 41 and 42 of I-93, consists mainly of industrial and office buildings, particularly Wyeth and Gillette corporations. Without direct access from I-93 most employees travel in whole or in part through the Ballardvale section of Andover, creating tremendous congestion in a part of town ill-equipped to handle it. The Merrimack Valley Planning Commission (MVPC) developed nine alternatives, each with pros and cons, offering a new ramp from I-93.

The Interchange Justification Report, produced by the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission, and submitted to the Executive Office of Transportation for Massachusetts in July has gone on to the Federal Highway Administration for review, according to Andover Director of Planning Paul Materazzo.

Last week, the Tri-Town Task Force met for the first time with the Cecil Group to create a vision for the development of the Lowell Junction area. With the complexity of three towns and three separate regional planning commissions, the work to build a comprehensive, long range vision for the Lowell Junction area must begin before the FHA makes a determination on the actual layout of the interchange.

A Veteran's best friend

Wilmington's Veteran Agent may become a full-time position

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - At the eleventh hour on the eleventh day of the eleventh month - the moment marking the end of World War I in 1918 - Americans should pause and give thanks to all of the nation's veterans who have fought to preserve the freedoms that we hold so dear. But there is at least one man in Wilmington who spends far more time than most looking out for the welfare of the United States veterans living within the community.

As Wilmington's Veterans Agent, Lou Cimaglia ensures that each and every veteran, and their dependents, receives the benefits they are entitled to. In the job for just over a year, Cimaglia is wading easily through paperwork and putting far more money into the pockets of Wilmington veterans than has ever been done before.

The town pays veterans' benefits up front, and the town then puts in for reimbursement from the state and federally from the Veterans Administration (VA). The year before Cimaglia stepped on board, less than $5,000 was expended on veterans' benefits, and none of that money was reimbursed. In just the first six months of Cimaglia being on the job, more than $200,000 came back to the town. In the past year veterans have received upwards of $80,000 in benefits. Additionally, more than $2 million is coming into the town from the VA.

Benefits can include education, medical, compensation and pension claims, bonuses, housing assistance, tax abatements, and more. Cimaglia has obtained high school diplomas for WWII and Korean War Veterans that left high school early in order to serve, and has procured plaques for cemetery markers.

By digging into the details of current circumstances of several veterans, Cimaglia has even

Kevin Caira

Man of the Year

For Kevin Caira, community service is a family business

By ANDREA MACMULLIN

WILMINGTON - Recognized by his work as the Sons of Italy State President, Kevin Caira of Wilmington has been named Magno Calabro - Man of the Year - by Circolo Cultura Viva Calabrese, an Italian American cultural and social organization named for a regional area of Southern Italy.

"Each year they have honored someone and this year they picked me," said Caira.

For the first time in the organization's history, they have chosen a Sons of Italy State President, and also for the first time ever, someone who is not of Calabrese descent.

"I'm honored and humbled to have another Italian American organization recognize me," said Caira. "It's quite a thrill."

The statewide Calabrese organization has been in existence for approximately fifteen years, with a member base of eighty throughout Massachusetts. Past recipients of the prestigious Man of the Year have gone to such men as Larry Lucchino, President and CEO of the Boston Red Sox.

But Caira doesn't see himself as receiving this award alone.

"I don't see it as being just me," he said. "We're 11,000 members in Massachusetts," Caira said of the Sons of Italy. And the eighty-five Sons of Italy chapters within Massachusetts each have its own charitable work.

In Wilmington alone, the Sons of Italy contributes

Setting the table for Veterans' Day

North Intermediate students learn about Veterans Day in a very special way

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - Veterans Day will likely mean a great deal more to the students of the North Intermediate School this year. Library/Media Specialist Heather Peachey introduced the students to "America's White Table," a book written for children by Margot Theis Raven. The book brings home the true spirit and meaning behind Veterans' Day in a powerful and memorable way.

As Peachey reads the book to each classroom, she sets a small table for the soldier that did not make it home, exactly as it is done in the book.

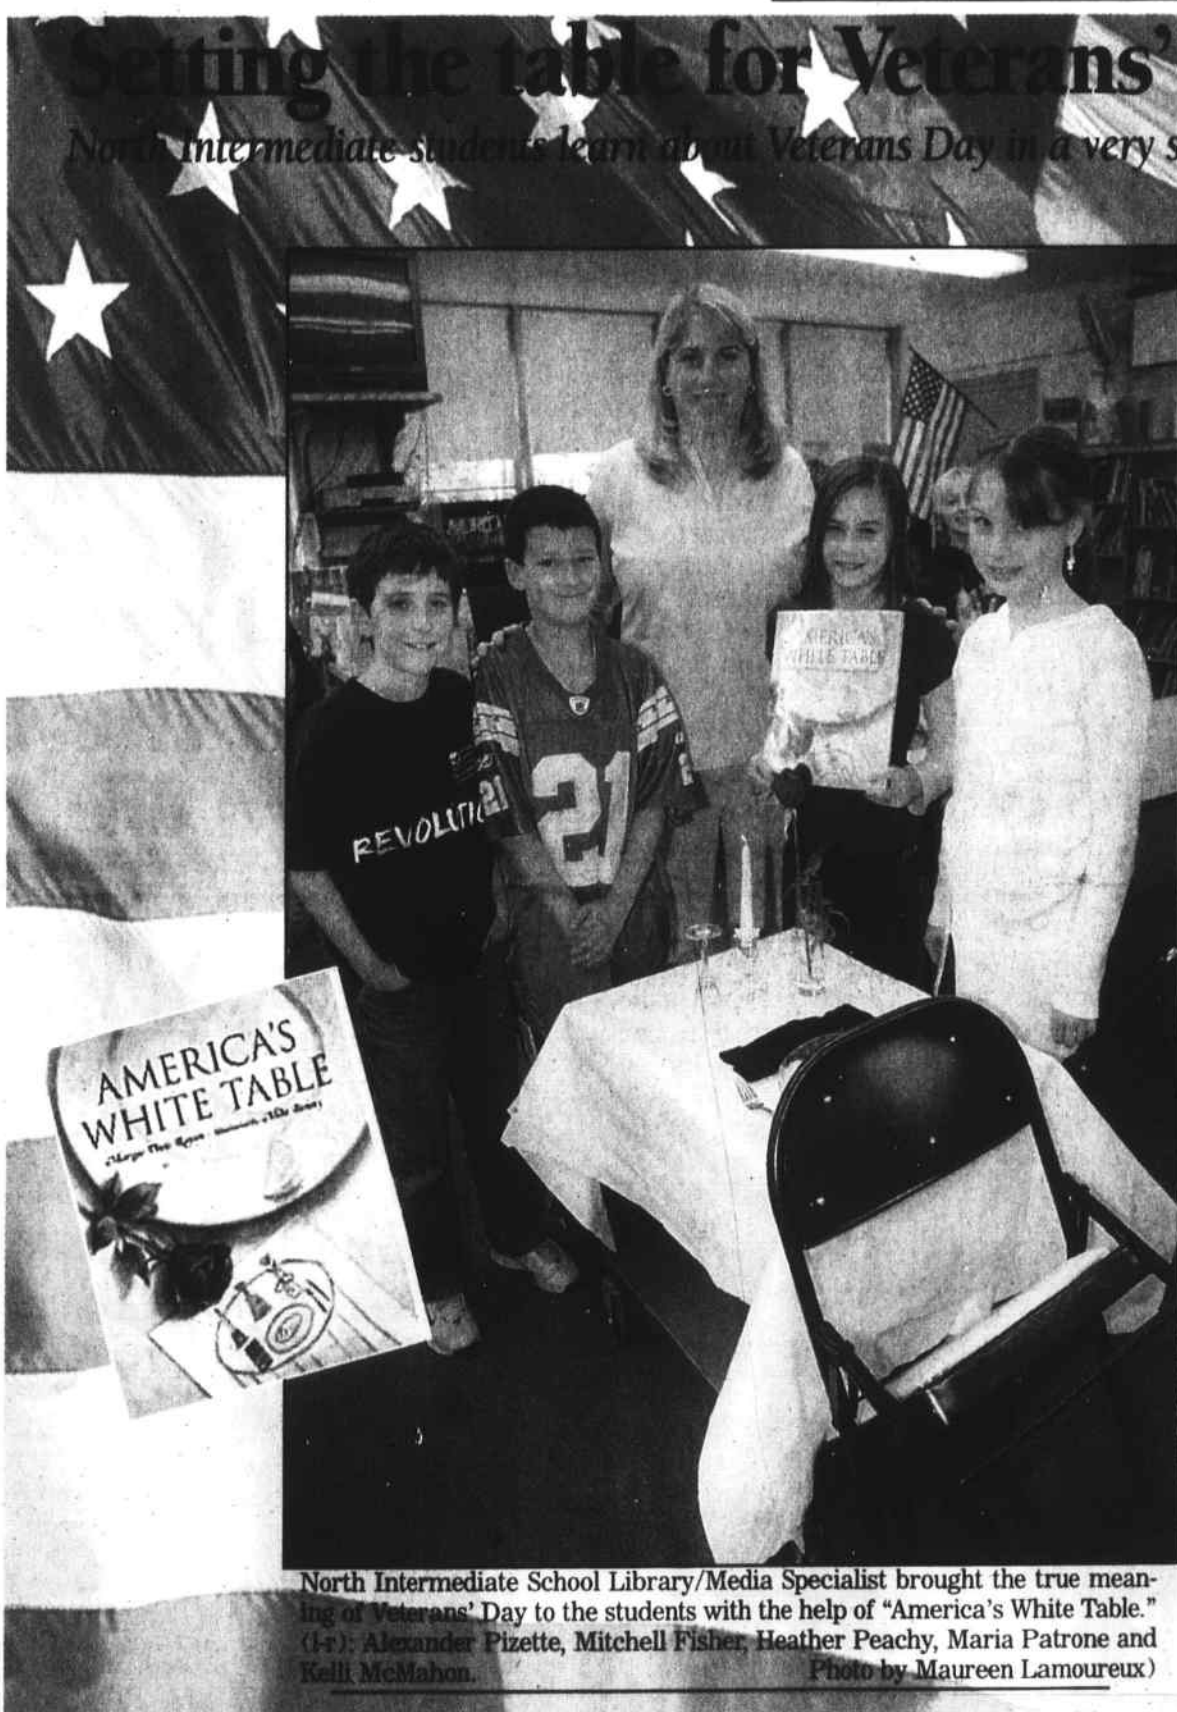

According to the publisher's comments, "The White Table" is set in many mess halls as a symbol for and remembrance to service members fallen, missing, or held captive in the line of duty. Solitary and solemn, it is the table where no one will ever sit."

In the book, several sisters are asked to help set the white table for dinner as a gift to their Uncle John. As they do so, their mother explains the significance of each item placed on the table. The young girls come to understand and appreciate the depth of sacrifice that their uncle, and each member of the Armed Forces and their families, may be called to give.

"It was just a little white table..." an excerpt from the book reads, "but it felt as big as America when we helped Mama put each item on it and she told us why it was so important."

According to Peachey, the white table symbolizes the soldier's pure heart when he answers his country's call to duty, just as the smallness of the table signifies the soldier's lone-

WHO'S WHOSE DEPENDENT?

Even though you love your children, you may not want to claim them as your dependents. Indeed, for those with incomes over $225,750 on a joint return, when exemptions start to phase out, it may not do you any good, tax-wise. A better bet might be to let the children claim education credits and other benefits themselves.

More: some families are taking the opportunity to let an older one of their offspring, living in another household, claim their younger siblings as dependents. The older child may qualify as head of household—a better tax bracket than single—perhaps a child credit maybe a refundable earned-income credit.

On the other side, some families have senior members who cannot afford their own care. If you provide more than half the support of a relative earning less than $3,200 a year, not including Social Security, he can be a dependent. If several siblings share care and cost, make sure deductions go to those who can use them.

New, tax-saving options keep arising. See how we can help save you at:

launching the "There Ought to be a Law" competition and invites all of her constituents to participate.

Beginning today, Tucker will be accepting "There Ought to Be a Law" contest proposals from local residents. The competition challenges individuals to offer solutions on how to improve life in Massachusetts or make state government run more efficiently and welcomes their most innovative ideas.

"I strongly believe that to be effective, leaders must be good listeners which is why I'll personally read each proposal," Senator Tucker said. "This is a serious-minded competition to give local citizens the chance to put forth their ideas and influence public policy."

Tucker intends to bring the winning ideas back to the Legislature for formal consideration. Those whose ideas are selected will have their proposals introduced as official legislation and have the opportunity to testify at a public hearing on their bill at the State House. Winners will also be invited to lunch with Senator Tucker and receive a personal tour of the Senate Chamber.

To participate, individuals can download the contestant form online at <http://www.mass.gov/legis/member/sct0.htm> or call Senator Tucker's office to request a form at (617) 722-1612. Completed contestant forms can be mailed, e-mailed, or faxed to the Office of Senator Tucker. Senator Tucker requests that all entries be submitted by Friday, December 15, 2006.

Students not being used by Tewksbury teachers

Dear editor:
The terrific turnout of Tewksbury Teachers at last Wednesday's School Committee Meeting led to some odd comments by Tewksbury School Committee member, Joseph Russell (as quoted in the Lowell Sun, 10/19/06). He was quoted, "I feel (the students) are being used by the teachers." I dispute that statement. Students today are taught to analyze, write, express opinions, and certainly to perform these skills on a wide variety of tests and venues. Last Wednesday the student representative to the School Committee, Ms. Shauna Sullivan, was very eloquent and was supported by a large number of students during her presentation. The student representative delivered an important message that was not believed by board members. She was certainly more credible than Mr. Russell was when he stated in the Lowell Sun, "I know we are fighting for teachers and the kids." He is not fighting for teachers! We expect the Tewksbury School Committee to fulfill their fiduciary responsibility and settle this contract. Mr. Russell's speculation shows his disrespect for current Tewksbury teachers and what we are doing. I would hope teachers are teaching this type of democratic action to students, encouraging positive, social analysis and commentary.
Ms. Sullivan reminds me of John Quiney Adams our sixth

President. He would stand up at the beginning of each new session of Congress (He served 17 years in the House of Representatives after one term as President and one term as Senator.) to express his contempt for slavery. He went against a Congress whose rules at the time outlawed such statements against slavery. Adams was brave enough to speak his mind against the Southerner's culture. Ms. Sullivan spoke a truthful message to the politicians on the School Committee that went against the committee's culture of looking down their noses at the Tewksbury Teachers Association; paying us the lowest wages of the twelve towns around us; and always dragging out negotiations by saying there is no money. Last year's retired teachers are receiving a 3.3% Cost of Living Adjustment (C.O.L.A.) starting in January. Mr. Russell has been fighting to offer teachers in Tewksbury a 0% C.O.L.A. and wants us to work with larger class sizes and for longer hours.
Ms. Sullivan has learned her lessons very well and speaks as an independent person not "being used by teachers" but certainly being taught by them. Ms. Sullivan deserves an apology from Mr. Russell and we deserve a new contract.
Sincerely,

David P. Marcus
Tewksbury Teacher

A Point Of Reference

(editor's note: the letter above from Mr. Marcus, which is referenced below, was published in another newspaper last week.)

Dear Editor,
Everyone is entitled to his or her own opinion. How opinions are formed differ from person to person. However, when forming a personal opinion, everyone carries their own point of reference with them.

As a parent who actively supports our students, our teachers and our school system, I attended the school committee meeting where TMHS School Committee Representative Shauna Sullivan bravely spoke. I listened intently as she delivered the students' perspective supported by her fellow students in the audience. I heard her articulate specific concerns, which were within the control of both the School Committee and the Tewksbury Teachers' Association. To me, her strong message was clear; the result of failed teachers' contract negotiations negatively impacts students. I perceived her request for a fair teachers' contract now, although delivered to the school committee, was directed toward both sides. Evidently, the students want and deserve for this battle to end!

In David E. Marcus' letter, he attacked an individual school committee member based on his own opinion, based on his own point of reference. Yes, Mr. Russell's quote was accurate. From Mr. Russell's point of reference, as a school committee member who is elected to represent our students, and our community's entire educational structure, he may have been referring to Ms. Sullivan's comment regarding the items within the control of union (i.e. the issue with the homecoming dance).

How can Mr. Marcus attack an individual school committee member who is not even a member of the School Committee's negotiating team for the teachers' contract? Joseph Russell is the only school committee member who has a student in the John Ryan Elementary, John Wynn Middle School, and TMHS. Maybe Mr. Russell's passion for our students to expect and receive the most out of their educational experience got the best of him after listening to a powerful message from a student he respects. To publicly question his credibility based on one statement is just not right! I witnessed Mr. Russell "fight" for our students and our teachers last month at Town Meeting as he stood up to speak for the School Committee pleading for funds desperately needed to lower class size. That was not a first for Mr. Russell. He always "fights" for the funds are schools need.

If you are looking for someone to blame just look around there is plenty; try unfunded educational federal mandates; how about the cuts in the state funding for education; Tewksbury's current financial state could be to blame; the town managers message to the school committee "no money" is often a favorite, the list goes on.
Bottom line Mr. Marcus can "dispute" Mr. Russell's statement but from my point of reference he was not referring to what students are being taught. I am proud that our TMHS students are part of the democratic process and I believe Mr. Russell is proud of that too! I heard the students say move forward so we can move forward. Let's help them move forward by working together, not attacking individuals.

Everything's a Story

by Andrea MacMullin

Life is full of irony. The Merriam-Webster online dictionary defines irony as incongruity between the actual result of a sequence of events and the normal or expected result. I interpret this as a difference in what you would expect, to what actually happens. Just this week an example comes to mind.

I take my children to religious education for the same reason that every other parent does. I want to instill in them the values and morals that I too believe in, and I want them to hear from someone other than myself ways in which to be a good person - to have patience, respect, generosity and compassion toward others.

Each week us parents gather to pick up our blessed little ones, and make our way home. But before we do, we have to get out of the parking lot. It seems like a simple routine, but each time I find myself wondering if some people are forgetting where they are, or where they have just picked their children up from.

It seems to be every man and woman for himself or herself as they try to maneuver their vehicle through the parking lot out onto the street. There is no eye contact made with other drivers, no sign of a cordial wave to let that patient car move ahead that has been letting fifty cars move before her (usually, me). Last week I even heard a "honk" go out to someone who apparently was stalling the line. I look to either side of me and see the driver whose only focus is on moving forward, and the painful look on their face tells the story of anguish and exasperation at having to wait the two minutes before the car in front of them is loaded and buckled.

It got me thinking. I mean really, how silly of us adults using our vehicles as a protective armor of disguise to fight our way through a crowd. It's not like being in another town and you can roll your eyes at the man who pulled out in front of you in the parking lot at a convenient store - chances are you'll never see that car or person again. But here, you'll see them again next week - and their car.

Not to mention the fact our children are in the back seat and they have just visited the very place we send them to teach them to be a better person. Ironic, don't you think?

Yes, life is full of ironies and contradictions. We can think we know the right thing to do, but doing it is sometimes difficult. And the hardest thing is rationalizing it to our children and others, and justifying our actions to them. Maybe we should take the guidance of our children and ask them what they learned for that one hour. It might be some valuable information.

Letters to the editor

The tastiest festival yet

Dear Editor:

What a delight our Evening of Gourmet Delights Tasting Festival was! The very welcome surprise of the evening was a $2000 donation from Edna Berger Cooper, the widow of the founding board President, Emil Berger. As we celebrate our 39th Anniversary, the work of the agency is a tribute to the foresight of Emil and Attorney James Banda back in 1967. We recognized Gerry Duggan as an Honorary Board Member for all his efforts on our behalf and all 350 guests sang "Happy Birthday" to Samantha DePasquale of the Rocco Restaurant family who always agrees to celebrate her birthday at the festival!

Of course, the Evening of Gourmet Delights depends most on the restaurants and caterers donating their signature dishes. From Focaccia's chocolate fountain to Casa di Fior's carved roast pork to Mango Thai's lava mussels and crab ragoon to Porchside's buffalo wings and Mastrioli's made-to-order pasta, there was an outstanding mix of tastes. Amazingly there was a five-way tie for first-prize for Sauciest Sauce as diners all seemed to have different favorites: Restaurante Daniela, Mastrioli's Catering, Mango Thai, Raphael's Place and Catering, and Casa di Fior. Diners voted their favorites and the winners were:

Casa di Fior - the host function hall - won First Prize for Roasted to Perfection, Soul Warming Soup, Just Like Mom's, and Sauciest Sauce and Honorable Mention for Lovely to Look At, Melts in your Mouth, and Lined Up for Seconds.

Delicious Desserts - a Winn Street in Woburn bakery - won First Prize for Sweet Tooth Delight, Simply Scrumptious, Melts in your Mouth, and Glad I Found You and Honorable Mention for Chocolate Paradise and Lined Up for Seconds.

Focaccia Ristorante - who donated a free dinner coupon to each guest - won First Prize for Chocolate Paradise, Pasta Perfect, and Lined up for Seconds and Honorable Mention for Exotic Entree, Lovely to Look At, Melts in Your Mouth, Sweet Tooth Delight, and Lined up for Seconds.

Raphael's Place and Catering - from Concord Street in North Reading - won First Prize for Tex-Mex Stand-Out, Just Like Mom's, and Sauciest Sauce and Honorable Mention for Favorite Half-Time Snack.

Mango Thai - from Main Street, Tewksbury, returning this year - won First Prize for Exotic Entree and Sauciest Sauce and Honorable Mention for Zesty Tidbit and Glad I Found You.

Porchside Sandwich Company - from Lowell Street, known for their salad bar but winning for their catering - won First Prize for Favorite Half-Time Snack and Zesty Tidbit and Honorable Mention for Soul Warming Soup and Glad I Found You.

Mastrioli's Catering - house caterer for the Knights of Columbus - won First Prize for Sauciest Sauce and Honorable Mention for Favorite Half-Time Snack.

Ristorante Daniela - from North Reading - won First Prize for Sauciest Sauce.

Rocco's Restaurant - from Main Street - won Honorable Mention for Pasta Perfect and Glad I Found You.

The ambiance of this Evening of Gourmet Delights was enhanced by the location at the beautiful Casa di Fior function hall and by the marvelous music created by DJ Mike Hartin from All Occasions Entertainment in Burlington. Please remember that combination if you are planning an event.

All of the ticket, raffle, and silent auction money raised goes for helping someone with emotional or family problems, who otherwise would have nowhere else to turn, because of our sponsors who have donated cash or services. The major sponsors were Susan and James Mahoney and McConnell Enterprises, a demolition and environmental services company. Other sponsors were Hampshire Press for invitation printing, Rapid Reproductions for program printing, Sir Speedy for ticket printing, Sign Station for signs, and B & D Carpets for blue spatula door prizes.

Many thanks to your newspaper for the two articles prior to the event and the donated advertising. Letting people know about the event is crucial to our sell-out attendance. We are always appreciative of your efforts to publicize our services.

We had a great year soliciting silent auction prizes and are most grateful to all the donors. New to the Silent Auction this year were: a harbor view stay at the New Boston Intercontinental Hotel; a Martha's Vineyard weekend with an overnight stay at the Ashley Inn, Sunday brunch at the Harbor View Hotel, and dinner at the Grill on Main; Boston theater and dessert with tickets to "Respect" at the Stuart Street Playhouse and the Viennese Dessert Buffet at the Four Seasons Hotel; Alvin Alley American Dance tickets from the Bank of America Celebrity Series; Falmouth rocker from Walpole Woodworkers; a hot-stone massage from the new Platinum Door; and dinner and a movie from the Cheesecake Factory and Showcase Cinemas. Other silent auction donors were: from Wilmington: Textron Systems, Northeastern Development, Main Stream Massage, Danielle's, Polished to Perfection, RMA Fitness, Wilmington T-Stop, Joe Barry's Oil, Champion's Choice, Tom Convery, Paul Blois, Donna Blizzard, Jane Palmer; from Tewksbury: Tewksbury/Andover Holiday Inn, Tewksbury Country Club, Piccadilly Pub, Kyoto Japanese Steak House, Cusano's Italian Kitchen; from North Reading: China Cuisine, Ristorante Daniela; from Burlington: B & D Carpets; from Billerica: Emerald Rose; from Stoneham: Stoneham Theater and Felicia's Restaurant; from the North Shore: North Shore Music Theater and Danversport Grill and Bistro; from Lowell: Merrimack Valley Repertory Theater and La Boniche Restaurant; from Reading: Savory Tastes; from Woburn: Polcar's and from Boston: Boston Celtics and Boston Red Sox.

Quite amazingly the raffle had 104 prizes from over 40 donors. We send great big THANK YOU's to the following restaurants, theaters, stores, and individuals: Amesbury Playhouse, Analog Devices, B & D House of Carpets, Boston Symphony Orchestra at Tanglewood, Le Grand David's Magic Show, Cheesecake Factory, Champions Choice, Cottage Place, Tom Convery, Sarah Cosman, Cusano's Italian Kitchen, Custom Stitch, Designs on the Rocks, Elia's Country Store, Felicia's Restaurant, Firestone, Robert Flaherty Jeweler, French's, Galante's Auto, Joe Ryan's Barber Shop, Jordan's Furniture, Leduc's Card & Gift Shop, Lowell Memorial Auditorium, Heather Moore, Lowell Spinners, Medieval Manor Theatre Restaurant, Melissa's Creative Cuts, Metro Fitness, Mocha's Candy & Nuts, Texann Nally, Nick's Comedy Stop, Ninety-Nine Restaurant, Piccadilly Pub, Rick's Barber Shop, Ristorante Daniela, Rocco's Restaurant, Royal Dynasty, Stuart Street Playhouse, Barbara Swansburg, Town Crier, Triton Car Wash, and Video Paradise.

As a non-profit, maintaining funding has been a major challenge these past few years. The work we do as a Family Safety Net is so important for the families and individuals we serve who are low-income and would have nowhere else to turn. The outpouring of support from over 100 restaurants, businesses, theaters, and stores is heart-warming for us and our clients. By their support, they have shown they are committed to making this community a better place to live. Please give them your thanks by giving them your business. Then you along with the 350 diners can be a part of our Family Safety Net.

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

The 105.7 party was a great time. Thanks to Sewerman! Thanks also to Marc Ginsburg, who donated all of the proceeds from the bar to Tewksbury's recreation department.

Tewksbury teachers should look at how things are done in the private sector. When there is no money, no one gets raises. There is not a bottomless well full of money. I'd like teachers to be paid more too, but don't want taxes to force me out of my home.

Congratulations to Jim Miceli on his victory at the election. It is only Monday, but I think it's safe to predict that he is going to walk away with a victory. A good man doing a good job.

I don't know whether the concerns about the gas line running through Tewksbury are accurate, but good for the Conservation Commission for taking the time to look into the situation.

Congratulations to Sharon George on a great election and the way she reached out to the youth of Wilmington to get them interested in the voting process.

Letters to the editor

It was horrible

...just the way we like it

Dear Editor:

On Sunday, October 29, 2006 the Recreation Department sponsored the 39th Annual Horribles Parade. Hundreds of children and their families marched from the Public Safety Building to the Wilmington High School Cafeteria where treats galore awaited. To the delight of all, a fire truck and police escort led the way. A photogenic fall setting indoors was made possible with the donation of hay bales and cornstalks from the Woburn Street School PAC.

We estimate that approximately 600 children participated in this event on a very windy day. The success of an event of this size requires the support of many organizations within town. Special thanks to CVS Pharmacy, Dr. Abrahamian

D.D.S., Dunkin Donuts/Baskin Robbins, Dunkin Donuts (321 Main Street), Kiwanis Club of Wilmington, Realty Executives Northeast, Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks, Wilmington Sons of Italy, Wilmington Fire Department, Wilmington Fire Fighters Association, Wilmington Fourth of July Committee and the Wilmington Police Department for their contributions.

Sincere thanks also to the dozens of volunteers who decorated, distributed candy and in general helped everyone enjoy this Halloween tradition.

I am grateful to everyone who helped to make this event an overwhelming success.

Sincerely yours,
Deborah Cipriani
Recreation Director

Make a Difference Day Community Food Drive

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Rotary Club of Tewksbury, I want to thank all of the residents and volunteers who generously donated food on the October 28 "Make a Difference Day" Food Drive for the Tewksbury Community Food Pantry. The pantry collected bagsful of food that will help to supply needy families with adequate supplies during the upcoming holiday season. We thank the Tewksbury Town and Rural Mail Carriers who generously took time to pick up the food donations at the mailboxes all day. And many volunteers, from highschool students to senior citizens and from local businesses such as Enterprise Bank and Raytheon, volunteered their time and energy to help unload the mail carrier trucks, to sort through food and to stock the shelves at the food pantry. The day was a wonderful example of the generosity and goodwill of people in the community! Because of everyone's combined efforts, needy families in Tewksbury will enjoy healthy meals in the coming months! The success of this year's event again shows how much all of us can accomplish when we work together. Thank you to everyone who donated food and who helped out at the pantry!

T.H.E. FARM Auction is a Huge Success

T.H.E. FARM FRIEND MERIT AWARD is presented at Auction

TEWKSBURY - T.H.E. FARM's annual Benefit Auction, held at the Tewksbury Country Club, was a huge success. This first fundraiser, since Governor Romney signed T.H.E. FARM's 99 year lease legislation, is an important start to the daunting task of raising 2 million dollars for the construction of an indoor arena. The legislation requires that the construction of an indoor arena begins within five years.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of the second annual T.H.E. FARM FRIEND MERIT AWARD to Larry and Sandy Polimeno, of Tewksbury. It was presented to them by one of T.H.E. FARM's equestrian Special Olympians, Westford's 15 year old Jessica Sutton.

T.H.E. FARM president, MJ Marcucci, explained that T.H.E. FARM FRIEND MERIT AWARD is presented to an individual or organization, who makes a significant contribution that furthers the principals embodied in T.H.E. FARM's mission.

Marcucci stated that Larry and Sandy's "support ... helped validate our organization during a most critical time, as we sought legislation granting T.H.E. FARM a permanent home on the Tewksbury Hospital campus, a necessary step in preparation for building a much needed indoor therapeutic equestrian center. Larry and Sandra have given life to T.H.E. FARM through their generosity, advice, and laughter, enabling us both to fulfill our mission on a day-to-day basis and to help make the therapeutic program self-sustaining as we move forward."

Fire Prevention Week

Rick Hamm, Safety Coordinator for the Tewksbury Fire Department, scheduled a firefighter team along with a fire truck to make a presentation for the morning and afternoon sessions of the Tewksbury Integrated Preschool.

Firefighters Dan Sawicki and Tom Murphy talked to the children about fire safety. The children, dressed in their class-made firefighter hats, were excited to see the big red fire truck. The children and teachers were invited to climb into the fire truck and the children took turns squirting water from the fire hose. All the children enjoyed climbing the fire truck, squirting the hose and meeting real life firemen.

It was an exciting learning experience that enriched the classroom "fire prevention" theme and great fun was had by all.

The preschool staff and the children thank the firefighters for a fun time.

Three things everybody in Wilmington should know about Healthcare Reform

By Christina Severin

Is Massachusetts ready to get healthy? The state's historic new healthcare law is designed to make sure that all residents can access professional medical care. Whether or not they can afford to pay commercial rates. The first tangible result - a new subsidized insurance product called Commonwealth Care - became available to uninsured residents across the state on October 1st.

There are three things residents in Wilmington should know about the new law:

1. Eligibility

Beginning July 1, 2007, every taxpayer in Massachusetts must have some form of health insurance. Those who fail to comply by July 1, 2007 will lose the personal exemption on their income taxes. Failure to comply by July 1, 2008 will result in a penalty of half the cost of the lowest available annual health insurance premium.

Because most people without health insurance are uninsured for economic reasons, the legislature expanded the requirements for MassHealth, the state's Medicaid program. Now, children whose families earn up to 300% of the federal poverty level (FPL), which is $60,000 gross household income, can obtain insurance through this program, which also includes dental and eyeglasses benefits.

Those who do not qualify for MassHealth are eligible for the newly created Commonwealth Care, which is a sliding scale program that subsidizes insurance for people earning at or below 300% of the FPL. This program is only available to uninsured residents who are 19 years or older. Eligible, employed residents can use pre-tax dollars to pay for their insurance.

To learn about MassHealth eligibility, Massachusetts residents can contact the MassHealth Enrollment Center at 888-665-9993, from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

To learn about Commonwealth Care, Massachusetts residents can contact Commonwealth Care Customer Service at 1-877-623-6765 or 877-MA-ENROLL (TTY 877-623-7773) from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

2. Enrollment

As of October 1st, adult residents who earn 100% or less than the federal poverty level ($20,000 gross annual income for a family of four) qualify for "no premium" coverage under Commonwealth Care, with some co-payments that apply for select services ($1 to $3 for pharmacy and emergency room services.)

On January 1, 2007, residents earning between 100% and 300% of the FPL will be able to enroll. Applications will be available on the internet at www.mass.gov/connector. Healthcare systems, physicians groups and community organizations now have enrollment forms for prospective members.

In addition, interested residents can contact any of the state's four managed care organizations that are offering Commonwealth Care.

3. Benefits

Commonwealth Care covers hospitalization and inpatient services, outpatient services and check-ups, prescription drugs, plus mental health and substance abuse care. These benefits are substantially similar to what many Massachusetts receive through their private or employer-subsidized health plans.

For some at 100% or below the Federal Poverty level, dental and vision are also available.

Beyond these three important issues, every resident should know what healthcare reform in Massachusetts will accomplish once it is fully implemented. The reform effort will reduce the number of uninsured people in the state, which was estimated at half a million people based on a 2004 survey.

By lowering the number of people who do not have health insurance, Massachusetts will not only save tax dollars now spent on 'free' hospital costs, it will dramatically improve the health of communities like

Wilmington through restored funding for public health, increased community outreach, and increased access to regular doctor appointments and preventive care for people from all walks of life.

Healthcare reform in Massachusetts is long overdue. Working together, residents, regulators, lawmakers and businesses can make it a model program for other states.

Christina Severin is Executive Director of Network Health, a Massachusetts health plan that provides high quality and accessible healthcare coverage for over 80,000 Massachusetts residents with low and moderate incomes.

Thanksgiving memories can last a lifetime

Become a Fresh Air host family

This Thanksgiving season, many families in the Wilmington community are thankful for a special gift: the gift of sharing summer with a New York City child. Through The Fresh Air Fund's Friendly Town program, local families open their hearts and homes to inner-city children and volunteer as hosts for two weeks during the summer. By volunteering as a host family in 2007, the spirit of Thanksgiving can continue throughout the year. One child recounts the activities he tried in Friendly Town, "We did a lot of fun stuff in the country. We fed chickens and caught frogs." Next summer, you can show a child the joys of summer outside of New York City.

Since 1877, The Fresh Air Fund, an independent, not-for-profit agency, has provided free summer vacations to more than 1.7 million New York City children from low-income communities. Nearly 10,000 New York City children enjoy free Fresh Air Fund programs annually. In 2006, close to 5,000 children visited volunteer host families in suburbs and small town communities across 13 states from Virginia to Maine and Canada.

Additionally, 3,000 children attended five Fresh Air camps on a 2,300-acre site in Fishkill, New York. The Fund's year-round camping program serves 2,000 young people each year.

For more information on hosting a Fresh Air child next summer, please contact Lisa Teichner at (978) 887-0785 or The Fresh Air Fund at (800) 367-0003, or visit The Fund's Web site at www.frcsair.org.

Tewksbury Senior Topics

Those Tewksbury Senior Citizens attending the Elks Thanksgiving Dinner this evening are reminded that the doors will be open at 6:00 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m. If one is utilizing bus transportation for the evening, please note that the start time for pickups has been changed to 4:30 p.m.

Again, a special note of thanks is extended to the members of the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Lodge #2070 for the continued support and the generosity extended to Tewksbury Senior Citizens. Each year, among many other venues, the Elks members always make this Thanksgiving Dinner a pleasant and festive event. The efforts and hard work put into this wonderful evening is very much appreciated by all who attend.

Over the last several weeks information on the Prescription Advantage Program has been noted in this column. Enrollment in this coverage compliments one's supplemental coverages for prescriptions. If one is planning to subscribe to this program, it is imperative that you do so now and get the application in the mail so it will reach the Worcester office before or on November 15th. Applications received after November 15th will not be honored. Applications and information is available at the Senior Center

Please note that the Senior Center will be closed this Friday, November 10th in recognition of Veterans Day. Veterans Day is set aside to honor all those men and women who have served America in the pursuit of liberty and freedom. Much thanks and many blessings are sent to all our Veterans and to those who now serve in the armed forces. May God Bless them all.

Many people have been calling the Senior Center regarding the Board of Health Flu Clinic.

Please note that the flu vaccine has yet to be received by the Town. Once it is received, a clinic date will be arranged and the date will be noted on the Town Cable Message Channel, local newspapers and in this column. It is anticipated that the clinic will be held sometime this month.

Tewksbury Senior Citizens interested in attending one of the two Tewksbury COA Christmas Dinners should note that tickets will be available next Monday, November 13th at the Livingston Street Teen Center from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. and then at the Senior Center after 10:00 a.m. The dates of the dinners are Thursday, December 7th with transportation provided for this night and Friday, December 8th (no transportation). The dinners will be held at the Elks Hall. The tickets cost is $10 per person. As is the case each year, it is asked that one not ask the staff to save a ticket but instead have a friend or a family member obtain one's ticket if unavailable to get your tickets on the 13th. In fairness to all, it is not the practice of the staff to save tickets for any event. One's cooperation with regard to this ticket policy is very much appreciated.

A new Stained Glass Semester will begin at the Senior Center White House on Wednesday, November 15th. This class meets at 12:30 p.m. and the cost is $60 per person for an 8-week semester. For more information one may call the Senior Center at 978-640-4482.

If interested, it is suggested that one make his/her intentions known as soon as possible. The trip cost is $57 per person and includes admission and mini bus transportation.

mini bus transportation.

Several other trip requests have been a Beacon Resort Christmas trip and a visit to the Stoneham Zoo to see the Christmas lights. The staff will be working on arrangements for both these trips. Hopefully, information will be available next week.

McDonald's & Ronald McDonald House Charities of Eastern New England invites customers to help create healthier smiles

Funds Raised from November 10 - 19 to Improve Massachusetts Children's Oral Health

BOSTON, MA - Creating smiles on the faces of children is important to McDonald's Owner/Operators, and from November 10th through November 19th McDonald's customers in Massachusetts can Give A Hand to help Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) of Eastern New England ensure healthier smiles on children in our communities. As part of its ongoing fundraising effort to improve the lives of children and families, RMHC of Eastern New England will dedicate funds raised during McDonald's annual World Children's Day™ 2006 to improve children's oral health care.

Customers can make a contribution to RMHC of Eastern New England by purchasing and personalizing paper hand cut-outs for $1, and show their support by posting the hands in the restaurant. 100% of the money raised from the sale of the paper hands will go directly to RMHC of Eastern New England. In addition, at participating restaurants from November 17th to November 19th, 15¢ from the purchase of each Happy Meal®, Mighty Kids Meal®, and Extra Value Meal® will be donated directly to the charity.

Sarah Ferguson, The Duchess of York, and 2006 Global Ambassador, who will visit Boston on November 15th, remarked on the significance of this global program: "Nothing is more important than helping the children of the world." The Duchess continued by saying, "Through my role as global ambassador for World Children's Day, I represent the voice of the children and families in need and I help bring greater attention to the critical issues they face today." McDonald's customers from around the world have raised more than $75 million for children's causes since the inception of World Children's Day™ in 2002.

"The funds we raise during World Children's Day at McDonald's allow Ronald McDonald House Charities in Eastern New England to have a direct and immediate impact on the lives of local children and their families," says Edie Stevenson, Executive Director of RMHC of Eastern New England. "This partnership brings support and hope to those who need it most."

Locally, RMHC of Eastern New England has helped numerous Massachusetts community organizations. Generous donations from local McDonald's Owner/Operators, McDonald's customers, and other individuals and corporations enable RMHC of Eastern New England to provide this continuous support. Since it began in 1986, RMHC of Eastern New England has awarded over $12 million to more than 1,000 non-profit organizations and programs helping thousands of children and families. Grants also support the Ronald McDonald Care Mobile in Worcester, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, in addition to the Ronald McDonald Houses in Boston and Providence.

Pan-Massachusetts Challenge cyclists raise $26 mil

The Pan-Massachusetts Challenge, the most successful athletic fundraising event in the nation, contributed $26 million to cancer research and treatment at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The gift brings the PMC's 27-year total contribution to more than $171 million. This record-setting sum is the largest gift ever made to the Jimmy Fund.

The $26 million is more than twice the amount ever raised or donated to a charity by an athletic fundraising event anywhere in the United States, and it represents 99 cents of every rider-raised dollar, a charity pass-through rate that is so high it is unparalleled within the $1 billion athletic fundraising event industry.

Raised by nearly 4,300 cyclists who rode up to 192 miles in the 27th annual PMC in August, the $26 million gift is $3 million more than the PMC contributed to the Jimmy Fund in 2005. PMC Founder and Executive Director Billy Starr presented the check to Dana-Farber President Edward J. Benz Jr., M.D., at the Harvard Medical School Convention Center during a ceremony that was attended by 500 PMC cyclists, volunteers, and supporters.

"PMC riders are driven by the cause and they take pride in the fact that the progress made at Dana-Farber is directly tied to their fundraising efforts," said Starr, attributing the exceptional fundraising achievement to organizational factors that include the PMC's business model and its unique culture in which the competition is not for cycling speed but for the sum each rider raises for cancer research.

"While many initially join the PMC for the athletic challenge and because of the event's reputation," Starr noted, "people stay involved and raise so much because they become a part of the PMC family, reaping the personal and spiritual benefits of participating in something greater than themselves." The PMC has a 71.5 percent rider retention rate, with cyclists coming to Massachusetts from 36 states and six countries to participate.

"From new clinical trials that test exciting new therapies to support groups and programs that help young patients enter school, the PMC is critical to everything we do at Dana-Farber," said Dr. Benz. Dana-Farber is recognized by the National Cancer Institute as one of the world's leaders in cancer research and care. Dr. Benz joined the PMC team this summer as a first-year cyclist and now says he is hooked. "PMCs' remarkable fundraising results are driven by their passion, which I saw firsthand this summer as a freshman cyclist. I was absolutely energized by their commitment to our cause." The PMC is Dana-Farber's largest contributor.

The PMC is presented by the Boston Red Sox Foundation and Overstock.com. The 2007 PMC is scheduled for Aug. 4 and 5. Registration will open in January 2007. For more information about the PMC, visit pmc.org or call (800) WECY-CLE.

garnered retro-pay for benefits that they never knew they were eligible for.

"One veteran received a $28,000 check just two weeks before Christmas," Cimaglia recalls. "There are people in town that fought in six or eight major battles, like Iwo Jima for instance, and then just came home and went to work and lived their lives. These guys deserve these benefits, and many of them really need them."

Cimaglia is regularly meeting veterans who did not realize they were eligible for extended benefits; veterans who were thankful that they had once received assistance for a tank of heating oil. Some of these men are now receiving monthly benefits.

"You wouldn't believe how much a single $400 check can make a difference in the lives of many of these heroes," Cimaglia said.

The community's more recent veterans are also on Cimaglia's radar. He has secured college tuition for many veterans returning from the current war in Iraq and Afghanistan. He has even found money for Academy training for a couple of Wilmington's police officers recently back from serving their country.

Cimaglia knows firsthand about the sacrifices made by servicemen and women. He enlisted in the National Guard in 1980 and was called to active duty for the Gulf War. He was in-country 10 days before the start of the war, and stayed there for eight months.

"My son was 7-months old when I left," Cimaglia said. "I missed his first birthday and his first steps, and a lot of firsts."

The position of Veterans Agent is currently a part-time position in Wilmington, as it is in many communities. Cimaglia currently splits his time between Wilmington and Reading. His accomplishments in Reading are no less impressive.

As a result of Cimaglia's efforts, for instance, this year the Town of Reading will hold Veteran's Day ceremonies for the first time in more than 20 years.

The part-time status in Wilmington may, however, become a thing of the past.

There has been a grassroots effort, led by local veterans, to make the position of Veterans Agent in Wilmington a full-time position.

The Board of Selectmen recently received a letter written by a local veteran advocating for such a change. Board of Selectmen Chairman Raymond Lepore suggested that the Town Manager explore the idea to determine whether it would be beneficial to the community.

"It would be a good idea to look into it," Lepore told the Town Crier. "It would be a big plus for the veterans of this community. The Board of Selectmen should be commended for bringing it forward and the Town Manager should be commended for looking into it."

According to Town Manager Michael Cairra, the issue is being evaluated.

"There are very few things that we're looking to expand for next year, but this is one of the things that we are exploring," Cairra said. "(Cimaglia) is clearly doing a tremendous amount of outreach as the monthly caseload has increased significantly."

According to Cairra, the town's monthly caseload amounted to a handful of veterans or less in years past. The current caseload includes 25 to 30 veterans.

"Many years the town would budget $15,000 toward assistance to veterans, and that would more than cover the expenditures," Cairra said.

"This fiscal year - which began in July - we budgeted $80,000, which I predict will be woefully shy of what will be expended. He is doing his job by ensuring that all veterans and their families are receiving what they are entitled to."

Based upon the amount of work being produced, Cairra suspects that Cimaglia is currently putting in a good deal more than 40 hours between Wilmington and Reading.

The matter is still being examined. One way the position may be expanded to a 40-hour position is to broaden the role somewhat to include additional duties, all of which would pertain in some manner to veteran affairs.

Cimaglia, for his part, is pleased to hear that the Wilmington position is being considered for full-time status. He'd be thrilled to devote more time to his hometown. He derives a tremendous amount of satisfaction in helping the veterans of the community.

"I was born for this job," Cimaglia says.

A unified vision

"This is a 30,000 foot view," stated Carole Hamilton, Director of Planning and Conservation for Wilmington, echoing a statement heard throughout the meeting.

On the agenda from the Cecil Group were opportunities for each community to express expectations, concerns, and develop zoning for each town's parcel taking into account open space management, historical planning, and conservation.

Tewksbury Community Development Director Steve Sadwick identified two particular areas of concern for Tewksbury; the town will not abide local access to South Street and Jennie's Way. The Interchange Justification Report submitted by the MVPCC listed, as one alternative, a ramp with direct access to South Street from I-93.

"We submitted all of the town's correspondence with the MVPCC in the draft statement of the IJR to the Cecil Group," said Sadwick, explaining that Selectman Mackey raised the issues of South Street and Jennie's Way during the meeting and "drove those issues home."

"We are going to do everything we can to develop a unified development strategy for that area," said Sadwick.

Though Tewksbury already has an agreement with the beleaguered Mills Corporation for the development of a large shopping mall for the Perkins area, there is still a potential for ownership change due to the deleterious state of Mills' finances.

Wilmington's Hamilton spoke with the Crier and explained that Wilmington "probably has the smallest portion of developable land that would be opened by this interchange."

"Each town has constraints about what it would like to see on the parcels of land within its borders," said Hamilton. "We want to create a vision because we do not want to see infrastructure to local streets, Salem Street in particular."

Tewksbury and Wilmington would both like to avoid any housing on the parcels in question, since it would be extremely cumbersome to bus students to schools from property accessible only via I-93. Andover may pursue some housing on its land within the impact area. Additionally, Wilmington has identified some wetlands that will need protection throughout the development process.

"We'd like to see some sort of motel, office and retail complex," stated Hamilton. "Our parcel is part of the land that would be controlled by Mills.

They've been very supportive of our plans and willing to market it in that direction."

However, Hamilton quoted Sadwick as saying that 'its not a foregone conclusion that the mall will be built,' and that town planners need to take a long-range view of both Wilmington and Tewksbury parcels with consideration of how to use that land.

"I just think that this presents a pretty unique opportunity with three towns - three regional planning commissions - sitting down at a table together. It's nice to all sit down together to get something accomplished," stated Hamilton.

Andover's Materazzo characterized the Cecil Group's first consultation with the task force as a way to "try to identify some common ground and common goals and use it as a base."

Materazzo appreciated the Cecil Group's approach of beginning with the creation of an initial vision that will evolve with additional meetings of the Tri-Town Task Force, public input, and the decisions of the FFA. "It was a different approach; it was interesting."

The next meeting of the Tri-Town Task Force is planned for December with public hearings on the horizon, occurring sometime between February and March.

Tarr for Senator in General Court for the First Essex and Middlesex District, James Miceli for Representative in General Court for the Nineteenth Middlesex District (for Precincts 1, 2, and 4-6) and Charles Murphy for the Twenty-First Middlesex District (Precinct 3 only), Gerard Leone, Jr. for District Attorney for the Northern District, Michael Sullivan for Middlesex County Clerk of Courts, and Richard Howe, Jr. for Middlesex Northern District Register of Deeds.

In state and national offices Wilmington stood with the rest of Massachusetts. Senator Edward Kennedy won reelection to the United States Senate in a race against Republican Kenneth Chafe. In other races Town Clerk George saw overwhelming victories including Democrat Martha Coakley of Medford who trounced Republican Larry Frisoli for the office of Attorney General. Likewise William Galvin set the tone for incumbents by earning his re-election bid for Secretary of State against Green-Rainbow party candidate Jill Stein of Lexington. Treasurer Timothy Cahill, a Democrat from Quincy also won re-election against Green-Rainbow party candidate James O'Keefe of Somerville. Joseph DeNucci of Newton will serve another term, having won re-election as state Auditor against Rand Wilson of the Working Families party.

None of the three ballot questions passed in Wilmington, according to Town Clerk George. Ballot Question 1, the Sale of Wine by Food Stores initiative, proposed allowing grocery stores, supermarkets, and other retail food vendors to sell wine upon approval from local licensing boards.

Question 2, the Nomination of Candidates for Public Office or Ballot Freedom initiative, proposed a convoluted methodology for nominating candidates in elections and on ballots. Finally, Question 3 would have unionized family child care providers requiring them to bargain collectively with the state when negotiating for state-subsidized provided care.

Massachusetts Bankers Assoc. announces Holiday schedule for Veteran's Day

BOSTON - The Massachusetts Bankers Association said that most Bay State banks will be closed on Saturday, Nov. 11, for the Veterans' Day holiday: even those that routinely open on Saturdays.

'Veterans' Day is a special holiday to honor the men and women who have served or currently serve to defend the many freedoms that we enjoy today,' said Daniel J. Forte, president and CEO of the Massachusetts Bankers Association. 'We hope that every citizen will find a way to recognize the many sacrifices of those in service, as well as their families.'

Consumers are reminded that each Massachusetts bank can exercise its own discretion to remain open or closed on certain holidays like Veterans' Day. Customers should check with their local bank to be absolutely certain of the holiday schedule. The Association also said that banks will be open on both Friday and Monday, before and after, the weekend holiday.

The Massachusetts Bankers Association represents 210 commercial, savings and co-operative banks and savings and loan institutions in Massachusetts and elsewhere in New England.

$14,000 in yearly scholarships. They have donated thermal imaging masks to the Fire Department, a safety car to the Police Department, and a scoreboard for Wilmington High School.

"I try to promote the Sons of Italy among all organizations throughout the community," said Caira.

But working to help others is something that has always been a part of Caira's life, and he credits his family for instilling that quality in him.

"Helping people is rewarding. I guess it was the way I was brought up," he said. "Giving back to the community and helping my fellow man comes naturally from my parents."

Caira's father Aldo, who has since passed away, was the one who got him involved. Aldo served as State President of the Sons of Italy from 1967-1973, and the National President from 1979-1983. His mother Laura was one of the pre-founders of the Wilmington Lodge in 1967. And it doesn't end there. His sister Michele Nortonen is a State Trustee, brother Aldo Jr. is the local President in Wilmington, and brothers Michael and Kenny are both members. "We have a whole family involved," said

Caira.

"I think it's a great honor," said Michele. "My father would have been very proud, as we are. He's passionate and serious about the Sons of Italy."

Elated with his award, Kevin Caira said all of his work would not be possible without his wife Cheryl and their two children Amy, 13 and David, 11.

"Without their support and understanding, I wouldn't be able to do it."

A dinner is being held in Kevin's honor on November 11th at Spinelli's Restaurant in Lynnfield.

The empty chair reminds us of the missing soldier and an upside-down glass is the meal that will never be eaten.

There are very few books written specifically for children about Veterans' Day, so when Peachey saw a positive review of it in a trade journal, she was quick to order it. All of the children were impressed with the theme of the book.

"The students were very quiet and respectful throughout the readings," Peachey said. "I really think they've been moved by the whole thing."

Peachey has read the book to each and every class at the North, and follows up with a discussion about the themes explored within.

"I think that at least one student in each and every class was able to name someone that they knew that had served," said Peachey.

This Thursday, in honor of Veterans' Day, three White Tables will be set up on the stage in the cafeteria during lunchtime for contemplation.

"America's White Table" is available online through Amazon.com and other Internet booksellers. Barnes & Noble in Burlington is currently sold-out, but the Saugus and Peabody locations, according to the Burlington Barnes & Noble, currently have copies.

Post Office announces Christmas mailing dates

It's never too early to start planning for overseas holiday mailings, according to Postmasters Joanna M. Louf, Tewksbury, and Michael E. DiGregorio, Wilmington.

With thousands of American troops and civilians stationed around the world, the coming weeks will be a busy time for mailing international and military parcels and packages, they said.

They listed below the major dates recommended for mail to be delivered by Dec. 25.

- Nov. 13 - Parcel Post to military APO/FPO addresses
- Dec. 4 - First-Class cards and letters or Priority Mail to military APO AE ZIP 093 addresses
- Dec. 11 - First-Class cards and letters or Priority Mail to all other military APO/FPO addresses
- Dec. 4 - Global Airmail letters, cards and Global Airmail Parcel Post to Africa and

Central or South America

- Dec. 11 - Global Airmail letters, cards and Global Airmail Parcel Post to other International Mail locations
- Dec. 19 - Global Express Guaranteed International Mail (except Canada, Dec. 20).

"We hope the publication of these dates will prove beneficial to persons mailing cards and gifts to foreign countries so they will arrive in a timely manner," they said.

They said the Postal Service's website www.usps.com can prove to be a helpful resource during this holiday mailing season, offering a wide variety of links to mailing and shipping tools.

When a jail won't hold them, use a house

Like a lobster in a lobster trap...

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - A rash of burglaries in Wilmington has recently garnered Town Crier headlines. Though never a common occurrence, burglaries are not completely without precedent here in town.

A house on Woburn Street in North Wilmington left a pair of burglars stymied, in February 1970. The house was equipped with deadbolt locks and crazy hinges. One burglar got in, but found himself locked in a room in the basement.

Police received a call from a neighbor on a Monday morning, reporting a strange car in the driveway next door. The house had recently been sold, and the new owners were on vacation.

Officer Charles Dolan responded, and blocked the driveway with his cruiser. He approached the convertible parked in the driveway, and found a young man lying down on the front seat, so as to not be seen.

Dolan got the young man out of the car, stretched him out on the hood, handcuffed him and searched him. Suspecting there was someone else involved, he radioed for help.

Sgt. Arthur Kelley and Officer John Ritchie arrived in one cruiser, and not far behind was Officer Larry Kelly in a brand new cruiser, which had no radio. He followed Ritchie's cruiser after he saw the other officers making signs that he should follow them.

The police found that a window in the back door had been broken, but no entry had been made there, due to the unique construction. Then they found a small window open in the basement. They suspected there was someone inside.

Dolan fired a shot in the air. A young man appeared in the basement. But he couldn't go anywhere. All the doors were locked, and he was trapped in that part of the basement. His only way out was to crawl out through the small window.

It turned out that the previous owner of the house spent much of his spare time making the house burglar-proof. His work, it turned out, was so good that even the cops couldn't get in. They had to wait for the new owners to return, days later, before they could complete their investigation.

Girls team blanked by Belmont in first round play

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The incredible streak came to an end on Saturday afternoon.

After starting the season with an 0-5 record, the Wilmington High School girls soccer team finished 10-2-1 over its last 13 games, with the second loss coming in the first round of the Division 2 North sectional tournament as a talented Belmont team walked off its home field with a 2-0 win over the Wildcats.

"It was alright," said head coach Sue Hendee, of the team's performance. "We would have had to play an absolute perfect game to beat them. They are a good team. Had we played with the composure that we played with against Tewksbury it would have been a different story."

"But (Belmont) had talent, speed and were aggressive. I think part of the problem was nerves but they also came out a little flat (in the first half) and we didn't take advantage of that."

Wilmington had several scoring chances in the first half but nothing could come out of it on the scoreboard. Belmont really took control of the game in the second half to come out with the win. Senior midfielder Brianne Bozzella was bothered with a severe ankle sprain she suffered in the last regular season game against Tewksbury. She played sparingly, and Hendee said had the 15-goal scorer been completely healthy, the game could have been much different.

"Their keeper wasn't that strong, but their sweeper was very strong and we needed to have someone test the keeper with outside shots and that's exactly what Boz does very well," said Hendee. "She played a little bit but not like Boz."

Hendee added that all-league player Taryn Martinello played phenomenal in the midfield, while Amanda Stone and Danielle Bamberg also put forth strong efforts. The three of them as well as Bozzella, Samantha Canning, Leah DelRossi, Alana Lacey and Katelyn Maggio will all be graduating in June, thus they all finished up their Wildcat soccer careers.

"The seniors really have to set the example for the younger kids," said Hendee. "If you don't have the right seniors, it can be very difficult for a coach to have complete control of the team."

"These seniors did an excellent job keeping the high standards and believing in each other and in the team especially with the chips were down. We had one win in the entire month of September and that's tough. But these seniors were fantastic. They were always supportive of one another, they were intense, they worked hard and I hope they had a little fun in there too."

Despite losing the eight seniors, Wilmington does return a handful of players all with good varsity experience under their belts. Charlotte Jensen was a league all-star and she'll be back along with juniors Katie Cole (forward) and Leah Potner (goalie) and a handful of freshmen and sophomores, who showed terrific potential.

"I'll always look back fondly of this season," said Hendee. "I know it's beating a dead horse but coming back after we were 0-5 and finish 10-2-1 in our last 13 games I think is very impressive. I was pleased with the experience a lot of the kids were able to get and I thought there was great improvement from the start of the season until the end."

"I became really confident putting the girls in certain game situations."

"It's going to be pretty difficult to replace the defense. We're losing a lot, and many of those girls played together for a while. We're also losing a 15-goal scorer and that's going to be difficult so we're going to need someone to step it up big time."

"I was very impressed with the new players. They played with a lot of composure and they were pretty much thrown right in with the lions."

Elks shoot out Dec. 28

The Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks will sponsor its annual hoop shoot on Thursday, December 28, 2006 at the John Wynn Middle School.

Registration is at 6:30 p.m. A copy of your birth certificate is required.

Age categories include: 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13 for the girls and the boys categories. Prizes will be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place for each category.

Boys fall to defending state champions

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's tough enough when you enter the state tournament fielding just one senior in the starting line-up. Certainly nerves can become a big factor. But it's a lot tougher when you have that one senior team and you face the returning state champions in the first round.

And then when you gave up an early goal to the returning state champs, the comeback process is like climbing a mountain with slippers on. All but impossible.

The No. 6 seed Stoneham Spartans, who have gone to the either the Division 2 or Division 3 state final in each of the past five years, scored one early goal and added three more in the second half to defeat the No. 11 seed Wilmington, 3-1, on a cold Saturday afternoon played at SHS.

Stoneham won the Division 2 North, Eastern Mass and State Championship last fall, and after the win over Wilmington sport an overall record of 11-2-6. Wilmington ends its very strong second half run with a solid and respectable 10-6-3 record, with high hopes coming next year with 10 of Saturday's 11 starters returning.

"A lot of what we couldn't have happen, happened," said Wildcat head coach Steve Scanlon. "We gave up the early goal and we knew about the big throw (from Derek Bamberg) but we didn't defend it early on. It's tough to defend that. But I thought they were physically stronger, bigger kids and they pushed us off a lot of stuff."

"You don't want to give up that early goal especially against these guys because it's so tough to come back from. I thought we had a tough time adjusting early on. The kids had the butterflies. They rumbled to the ball and we weren't getting to it and we weren't getting back. By the time we steadied it out we were behind the eight ball."

Stoneham took a 1-0 lead in the eight minute as Bamberg sent an extremely long throw in to the side of the net and Robert Pacini was there to head it home. The score stayed that way at the halftime break, but the Spartans scored two more goals in the first eight minutes of the second half, both on cross passes from the left to the right, with Pacini and Bamberg finishing off the chances.

"They have a good club," said Scanlon. "They come hard to the ball and they run a lot of stuff off the long throw ins. They know how to handle themselves in the tournament and it shows. I thought physical strength was a big part of the game."

Wilmington got on the scoreboard at the 18 minute mark of the second half. After a nice play keeping the ball in down the left sideline, Mike Condell sent a pass out to Jonathan Spurr. His shot got deflected and the ball bounced back to Carlton Lentini, whose shot banked off a defender and into the net cutting the deficit down to 3-1.

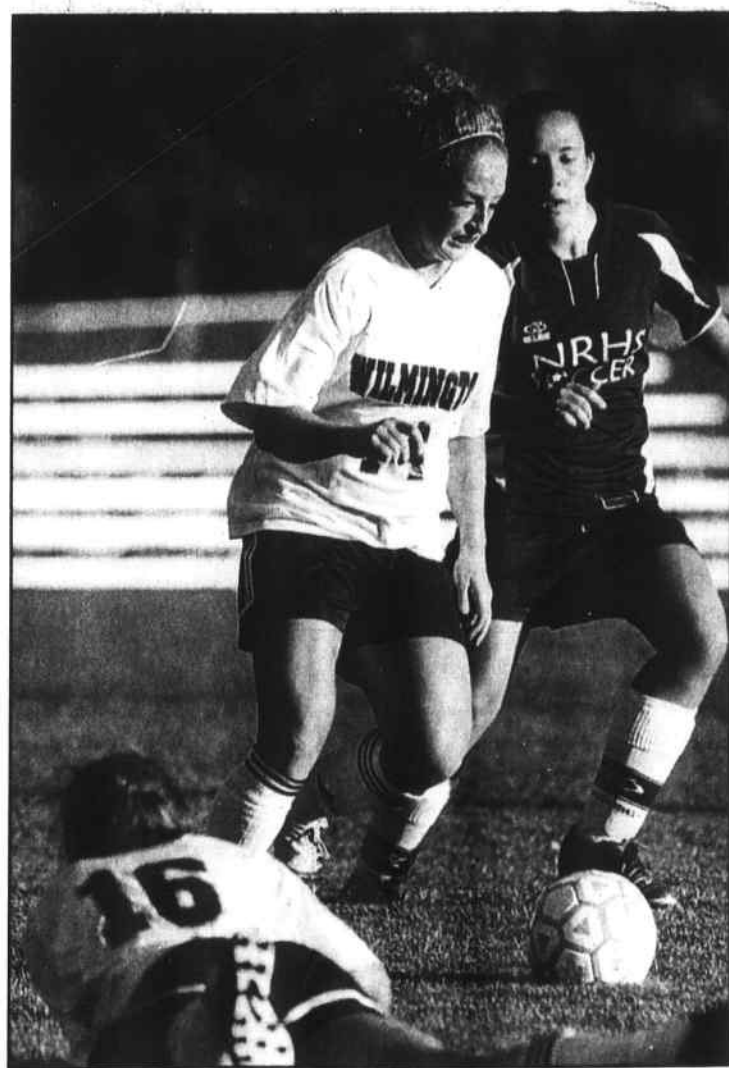

Wilmington had a good shot making it a one goal game but Andrew Goosens' just missed a chance.

"I'm proud of my guys and I thought we had a good year especially since we only started one senior (Chris Azevedo)," said Scanlon. "We have a lot of young kids. And usually when you're young and growing you lose games but we won games while we were still getting our feet wet."

"The kids learned a lot and we fought all the way until the end."

The only important decision: another win

Amazingly Wildcat football team is 7-2

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

NORTH ANDOVER — Sitting on concrete stairs in the hot early days of September, Wilmington High Football coach Bob Almeida was asked about the thoughts of this year's roster. He thought about his personnel and offered that he really didn't know what to expect this season.

On Friday night, no one could have expected what happened in week No. 9 of high school gridiron play.

First the Wildcats trailed 14-0 just 6:07 into the game and it appeared as if it would be a long night ahead at North Andover's gorgeous field turf stadium. Then the 'Cats rallied back to take a 27-21 lead with 4:02 left in the game and sealed the win when Richie Barry intercepted a North Andover pass at the Wildcats 12 yard line with just under a minute to go in the game.

And from the start of the game when the 'Cats trailed to the end of the game when they came away with the 27-21 victory, who would have thought that Wilmington would win this game and improve to 7-2, while at the same time utilize two quarterbacks in the game very effectively and at the same time give up 210 rushing yards to a sensational running back, yet still come away with the win?

Barry for one expected all of this.

"I honestly thought we would be this good," he said. "After (losing to) Belmont (in overtime in the first game of the season) I knew that we would be a good fight the rest of the season and that we were going to get it done. I knew right after Belmont that we had a good team and what it takes to win a lot of games."

So many tremendous stories came out of this one game, but none more so than Barry, who was nothing short of exceptional on the night. He ended up taking the ball 25 times and rushing for 149 yards. He scored a 21-yard touchdown run on the first play from scrimmage in the second quarter to cut the lead in half at 14-7, and then scored a huge touchdown on a 54-yard shovel pass from Steve Stewart as time expired to end the second quarter to tie the game up at 14-14 at the

After Steve Stewart tossed his second touchdown of the game to big brother Greg (the first time the two completed a touchdown together) giving Wilmington a 21-14 lead, North Andover's Andrew Foote came right back scoring on a 1-yard run with the PAT kick good making it 21-21 with 23 seconds left in the third quarter. Barry then put the game away with his third touchdown of the night, this one from 7 yards out, before intercepting the pass on a last minute drive to end the game.

"I saw the read and the other kid came behind me so I just said to myself that I was going to pick this (pass) off," said Barry. "I think North Andover expected us to load up on Foote so we would expect the run and maybe catch us off guard, but we just played it good."

Offensively, Barry made two huge statements in the past two Friday nights. The Cape Ann League has four tremendous running backs with Masconomet's Eric Bunker, Ipswich's Steve Phanuef, North Andover's Andrew Foote and Barry. Last week

Wilmington's Rich Barry and Ernie Mello combine to make a tackle for the Wilmington High football team during a recent Cape Ann League game played at home.

(JoeBrownphotos.com)

Phanuef rushed for 252 yards and scored four touchdowns. Barry countered with 161 yards and one touchdown but this Wildcat team won 27-25. On Friday, Foote had 212 rushing yards and 2 touchdowns, while, Barry had 149 rushing yards, a 54-yard TD catch and an interception, again leading his team to a victory.

"(Foote's) a great back and I'll give that to him," said Barry. "He's an awesome running back. But I think I'm up there with the rest of the guys."

Heading to the game, Almeida had a lot on his mind and a lot of decisions to make. Starting quarterback Kyle Moon hurt his knee in the team's fifth game of the season against Masconomet back on October 6th. Steve Stewart has filled in admirably ever since, but Moon was healthy to play against the Scarlet Knights. The two of them alternated snaps, and Moon ended up completing 6-of-11 passes for 87 yards, while, Stewart was 3-of-6 for 80 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. So what's the future plans, coach?

"I don't know," said Almeida. "They both bring a lot to the table. They are both good quarterbacks right now and it seemed to have worked tonight. I hadn't decided until about Wednesday night of what I was going to do but both kids deserved to play. Right now I don't know how long, or when, but I just told them to start the game (using both of them) and I didn't know how long it would last or what would happen from there."

It didn't look like that strategy was paying off early in the game. Wilmington trailed 14-0 behind 15-yard touchdown by fullback Matt Burckhardt and then a 20-yard TD run by Foote. Wilmington punted on its first two possessions and the 'Cats were behind the eight ball for the second straight game.

"You are what you are but that's a really good football team over there," said Almeida. "I know I say that every week but they are obviously a good team and really good up front. We took advantage of their secondary as much as we could but they were very strong up front. That number 66 (John Barbagallo) I don't think we blocked him all game. Their nose guard gave us problems all night long and up front they just gave us such a hard time throughout the entire game. But our kids just played hard all of the way. So I'm thrilled for them."

While Wilmington climbed back into the game with Barry's two second quarter touchdowns, and then Greg Stewart's TD pass from brother Steve, the 'Cats defense adjusted and just tried to keep the Foote runs to a minimal.

"We didn't stop (Steve) Phanuef last week and we didn't stop (Andrew) Foote tonight," said Almeida. "He's a heck of a back and he did a great job. We had him in places to make the play and we didn't make the plays. And that's a sign of a great back. We just tried to hold them down as much as we could. We were there to make plays against him but we missed and that's because of how good he is. We tried to stay away from the big play because last year he had some big plays against us and last week Phanuef had some big plays against us. For the most part we stayed out of the big plays but we still couldn't stop all of his runs."

Greg Stewart's touchdown pass made was his fourth reception on the night, and he added his fifth a 12-yard pass from Moon on the first play from downs which eventually led to Barry's fourth touchdown of the night to seal the deal for Wilmington.

"Greg Stewart had an unbelievable game," said Almeida. "He was better than their guys in the secondary and he showed it. Both of our quarterbacks did a good job of getting him the ball."

Barry intercepted the pass at the 12 and returned it to the Wilmington 34 yard line. He took the ball one last time for a 25 yard carry before Wilmington ran out the clock on the final two plays to improve to 7-2 on the season.

"I'm absolutely thrilled (to be 7-2 at this point)," said Almeida. "We sat there at the beginning of the season wondering how we were going to get wins and how we would get to a winning season. And honestly at this point of the season to beat two really good teams back-to-back is very exciting and we're very proud of that."

Wilmington is back on the road playing its only Saturday game of the season against arch rival Pentucket with kickoff slated for 1:30 pm.

Wilmington's Ernie Mello chases down an opponent with defensive help from teammate Michael Enwright during a recent Cape Ann League football game played at home. The Wildcats are currently 7-2 on the season after picking up another come from behind win on Friday against North Andover.

Veteran official still calls the shots

Dave Magee is one of the good guys. Magee is an umpire and a referee, and I actually like the guy. He's one of the truest gentlemen that I've ever met and he's an umpire and a referee.

That might be a tough sell to most ex-athletes like myself, who have their share of run-ins with officials, but in this case it's a no-brainer. Dave Magee is a nice guy, and I can't remember one disagreement that I've ever had with him on or off the basketball court, where I spent a lot of time with him many years ago.

In the interest of full disclosure, Magee just happens to be Ron Magee's dad, and Ron has been one of my best friends for 35 years. Dave also just happens to be Eric Magee's grandfather. Eric is currently enjoying a solid year as a junior cornerback for the Tewksbury High School football team.

Recently, I sat with the senior Magee and Ron as they watched Eric toy with several Methuen Ranger receivers. Nothing much had changed from the last time that I chatted with Dave. The 73-year-old was still quick-witted and eager to chat about sports. Years ago Dave penned an 'ask the referee-umpire column at the Town Crier at my suggestion. Informative and to the point, the idea was a solid sell to local readers.

That afternoon in Tewksbury, we picked right up where we left off, as Ron warned his dad that "there's a column coming here." He was right-there was. Dave was ready to either talk sports or whip both his son and myself in any road race. Magee is in great shape to this day; an example to anyone who thinks the slippery slope to old age starts after you turn 50.

Magee doesn't need to remind anyone that the eyes and the legs are still right where they should be. Many years ago the Town Crier (and myself) had the audacity to question Magee's ability to keep up with the action while officiating a Merrimack Valley Conference basketball game. How wrong wrong were we? Very wrong.

It's 20 years later, and has Magee been put out to the officiating pasture? Hardly. Eric's granddad splits his time between homes in Tewksbury, Maine and the Florida Keys, still assigning umpires with Sinny Robbins in five local leagues. When he's not doing that, he's umpiring college exhibition baseball for five months a year in Florida.

Last, but hardly least, Magee has a blast umpiring at the yearly Red Sox Fantasy Camp in Fort Meyers, Florida every year. Over 140 Red Sox fantasy die-hards dish out $4,000 for a week of playing baseball with their idols. The Red Sox provide shirts, caps, dinners and plenty of Bill Lee stories to go around. Those campers also are lucky enough to get the umpiring expertise of one Dave Magee.

Even Dave Magee needs a connection however. His granddaughter Lindsay was an official ambassador for the Red Sox over several years. Lindsay (Ron's daughter), who is teaching school now in Atlanta after her graduation from Northeastern University, mentioned her father to the Red Sox, and now the veteran umpire gets to display his physical condition and keen eyesight to both the retired Red Sox and fantasy campers.

Magee, with his winning personality and fun-loving spirit, is perfect for the job of keeping any 'fantasy' game from becoming a total farce. "There are always plenty of Bill Lee stories to go around," laughs Magee. Sure, have fun. But follow the rules, guys. Most importantly, don't pull a hamstring. Or run into an unsuspecting umpire.

Experience does indeed count for something. Magee and I totalled up the years at halftime of the Tewksbury-Methuen football game. Thirty-eight years as a baseball umpire. Twenty-seven years running up and down the court as a basketball official.

Twenty years ago I had the nerve (or stupidity) to question whether or not Dave Magee could still keep up with any game. How dumb was I? Pretty dumb. Just don't challenge the guy to a race.

The King of the strikeouts

Frederick "Tex" Johnston graduated from Wilmington High School in 1948. He played football, baseball and basketball and was a starter on all three teams during his high school athletic career.

Tex was instrumental in leading his team to a successful 1948 baseball season striking out an incredible 101 batters during the course of just one season. Ultimately, the baseball team exhibited a magnificent 10-4 record that year, losing twice to Johnson, once to Methuen, and once to Chelmsford.

The highlight of the summer of 1948 was when Tex was called to try out for the Red Sox. Unfortunately, he threw his arm out pitching and never did make it to the big leagues.

After high school graduation, Tex worked for the railroad for a short time before being drafted into the Army. A courageous leader, Tex served on the front lines in Korea being both a valiant soldier and good hearted friend to many comrades. His gallant efforts earned him a promotion to Sergeant ranking, where he later received the Bronze Star.

After his discharge, Tex worked as a plumber for many years before retiring at the age of 65. During the course of his life, Tex played baseball and softball in various town leagues exhibiting a positive and enthusiastic nature that could be matched by none.

Tex passed away on September 15, 2006 at the age of 76, but not before knowing about his induction into the Wilmington Hall of Fame. Receiving this momentous award gave him a sense of great comfort and pride in knowing that so many people felt his life was so worthy of going down in history among the many great athletes before him.

The 1970 football team worth remembering

The Undeclared 1970 Class "C" Champion Wildcat 1970 football team would be defined as talented, tough, committed to task, dedicated, and willing to sacrifice to achieve their goal. The old adage, "It's amazing what a group can do when nobody cares who gets the credit" would characterize this team.

Coming off the 6-2-1, 1969 season, the 1970 team was considered a conference "dark horse". The Chelmsford Lions, the Dracut Middies and the Tewksbury Redmen were the favorites to win the Merrimack Valley Championship. Head coach Fred Bellissimo, along with assistant coach John Ritchie (offensive coordinator) and assistant coach Jim Gillis (defensive coordinator) kept the team focused, "conditioned", and ready to play each week. Team managers Danny MacDonald and Bob Catalano played a huge role in the team's success and were always there when needed ... which was often!

The offense, led by ends Jim Irwin and Syd Tildsley, tackles Alan Janson, Mike Severin and Mike Rounds, guards Billy Delisle, Mike Curran, George Anderson and centers Bob Gillis and Jim Ritchie, cleared the way for the backfield led by quarterback Bill Gustus and fullback Rick Smallidge, and halfbacks and captains. Dick Gillis and Mike Esposito, went on to set many school, league and state records.

The defense, led by everyone, recorded five shut outs giving up a league low 27 points in 9 games. This unit brought new meaning to the phrase "eleven men to the ball". The leadership of seniors Willy Hills and Steve Catalano led a group of very talented underclassmen: Artie Bibeau, Bobby Conlin, Leo Campbell, Dennis Sullivan, Mark Jepson, Tony Romano, Ed Gillis, Johnny Gillis, Bobby Noel, Ray Noel, John Barry, Steve Holloway, Sven Wiberg, Joe Scifo, Dale Mather, Dan Styles, Paul Olson, Steve Coursey, Bruce McMillan, Joe Sciarappa and Ray Ventura contributed to the success of the 1970 undefeated season and were outstanding in their roles for the Wildcats.

Undeclared Season Game Scores Andover 33-8 • North

Andover 55-0 • Methuen 35-0 • Dracut 21-0 • Burlington 41-0 • Chelmsford 35-10 • North Reading 48-6 • Billerica 34-0 • Tewksbury 13-3

Honors and Milestones

Undeclared 1970 season 9-0-0 • 5,000 fans attended the Thanksgiving Day game • 4,000 fans attended the Dracut game • Most points scored in MVC - 315 points, highest average points per game • Fewest points given up in a season, 27 an average of 3 points per game • Every member of the team received a varsity letter • Eastern Massachusetts Class "C" Champions • Most points scored in a single game - 55 points a MVC record • Running back Mike Esposito was named a Boston Globe and Boston Herald All Scholastic ... He was the leading scorer in the state. Jersey number 32 was retired • Halfback/linebacker Dick Gillis was named to the Boston Globe Class "C" All Scholastic team. He received the trophy for the outstanding player of the Thanksgiving football game.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Boys soccer advances to semifinals; girls eliminated

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech boys soccer team finished the regular season with a record of 9-7-2 and went into the Division 3 North Tournament as the 13th seed. Not a lot was expected out of the Rams, and most predicted that they would be eliminated in the first round by fourth seeded Northeast, who had defeated them 6-2 earlier this season.

Fortunately for the Rams, while others may not have believed in them, they believed in themselves and they have pulled off two consecutive shockers in the tournament, first over Northeast and then over fifth seeded Tyngsboro, and now will be playing in the sectional semi-final on Thursday afternoon against Ipswich at Reading High School.

"They were two really big wins, especially considering what had happened during the regular season," Barris said.

"Both of those teams had defeated us very handily."

The first shocker came last Saturday at Northeast where the Rams pulled out a 2-1 victory. The Rams got first half goals from Mike Gray and team leading scorer Brian Conway and then held on in the second half after Northeast had pulled to within a goal on a penalty shot midway through the half.

In order to beat Northeast, Barris knew he would have to change his game plan from the first time the team met.

"They had beaten us 6-2 and it was very easy for them. The other coach was very kind by not running the score up more," Barris said. "I figured there was only way to beat them. They had one kid who scored five goals against us last time so we played him in a box-and-one almost like in basketball."

They held the Northeast player in check and scored their first goal after a great throw in by Jake Zechner that was possibly headed by Gray, although no Ram on the field felt they had actually touched the ball.

Five minutes later Conway scored on a direct kick and the Rams then relied on the great goaltending of Mike LaMonica, who stopped 10 shots and helped propel his team into the second round.

Against Tyngsboro, who had defeated the Rams 6-0 earlier this season, Barris adopted a similar strategy, shadowing the Tigers number one scorer and held the Tigers down, while waiting for an opportunity on offense. The strategy worked again as the Rams pulled out a 1-0 victory.

They got the opportunity they were waiting for late in the first half when Mike Pease was tripped from behind by a Tyngsboro player. Conway immediately netted the penalty shot, after which the Tyngsboro goalie received a red card and was ejected from the game for arguing the penalty with the official.

"So, at that point we are playing 11-on-10, with a lead, against a team that is frustrated," Barris said. "All of a sudden it was a different game."

Tyngsboro kept up the pressure, however, out shooting the Rams 28-6 in the game, but LaMonica was up to the task and the Rams moved on to the semi-finals for the first time in over 20 years. Kickoff at Reading High School on Thursday is at 2:30 pm.

Girls Soccer

The girls soccer team at the Tech did not fare quite as well in the state tournament dropping a 6-1 decision to Georgetown in the first round of the tournament. The loss, however, could not diminish what was an outstanding season for first year coach Doug Michaud and his young squad who went 15-3-1 during the regular season and advanced to the finals of the state vocational tournament before being eliminated by Greater Lowell.

Ironically, while the boys team has made believers out of those who picked against them, it may have been the girls lack of faith in themselves that doomed them against a very good Georgetown team.

"Georgetown was good, but it was like the game was over when we walked onto the field," Michaud said. "The girls kind of felt they were going to lose. They had this mind set that once they were in the tournament the competition would be too tough. It was real apparent, especially early in the game."

The Lady Rams may have been intimidated at the start, and they trailed 3-0 at the half, but they rebounded well in the second half and played more like the team Michaud has come to expect through this fine season.

"They picked it up in the second half. If they had played that was all the way through it would not have been 6-1," Michaud said. "We may still have lost 4-2 or something, but then again we may have even pulled out a win."

While the tournament game did not go as planned, Michaud could not have been happier with the effort he got from his team in his first year as a varsity coach.

"They made me look good. I don't know if I did anything," Michaud said. "They were just a good team, with three freshmen that played very well."

The three freshmen were second leading scorer Jenna Zechner, who scored 26 goals, Jenn Carroll of Wilmington who scored 17 goals and Janel Madore of Tewksbury who earned a spot in the starting lineup in the second half of the season and played great from that point on.

"We are definitely very excited for the future," Michaud said. "If we can pick up another good freshman next year as well that would be tremendous because we have a lot of returning players with a lot of talent."

Rams Football team cruises past Gr. Lawrence

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech football team came into Saturday's game against CAC rival Greater Lawrence in the heels of their most difficult loss of the season to Whittier Tech just four days earlier. The loss to Whittier last Tuesday likely knocked the Rams out of playoff contention and they had very little time to rebound before taking the field against the Reggies.

For a while it looked like the Rams might be feeling the effects of the tough loss as they trailed the Reggies, 15-13 at the half, but they rebounded nicely showing the form that has led them to a great season to this point, and came away with a 34-15 victory that improved their record to 7-2 overall and 3-1 in the CAC Large.

The Rams once again got great play for their offensive line and running backs with freshman Chris Clark and senior Pat Fullerton combining for over 100 yards rushing and Clark scored another touchdown on an 82 yard kickoff return on the game's opening kickoff.

"It was nice to bounce back with a win," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "We got off to a little bit of a slow start. I think we were a little leg weary at the start, but we fought through it and got into a nice rhythm in the second half."

After the Rams took the 7-0 lead on Clark's return the Reggies took control for most of the rest of the first quarter, taking a 15-7 lead just before the end of the opening frame. The Reggie scores came on a 45 yard run by Nate Adames and a five yard run by Jorge Sosa. Adames connected with Brian Rivera for the two point conversion after the first core.

"At that point we really needed to get going," Costabile said. "We had talked before the game about getting off to a fast start. This game certainly proved that it is tough to play a football game and then come back three days later and play another one. It took a while, but we finally got things going."

The Rams got things going before the half on a seven play, 54 yard drive that pulled them within two points at 15-13. Fullerton had a big 22 yard run during the drive and quarterback Joe Gore of Wilmington connected with Clark on a big third down pass to keep the drive going before Clark capped the drive with a four yard run.

Although the conversion pass failed, Costabile was obviously much happier to be down by two points rather than eight heading to the halftime break.

"It was really big to get on the board and draw closer," Costabile said. "If we had gone to the half down 15-7 things could have been much different."

After Dan Pynn recovered a Greater Lawrence fumble at the Reggie 40 yard line early in the third quarter the Rams needed just two plays before new quarterback Shaun Miller hit Shawn Pimentel on a 38 yard pass down to the Reggie one yard line. Miller snuck over from there and the Rams were in front for good at 20-15.

The Rams next touchdown came after Greater Lawrence botched the snap on a punt attempt giving the Rams the ball at the 19 yard line. Fullerton immediately took advantage, running 19 yards for the score that made it 27-15.

Derek Sorenson once again set the Rams up in good field position to start their next drive, intercepting a pass that gave Shawsheen the ball on the Greater Lawrence 23 yard line. Three Chris Clark runs later, the freshman sensation scored from six yards out for his 15th touchdown of the season to cap the scoring.

With the win under their belts the Rams coaching staff began preparations for five time defending CAC champion Tyngsboro on Friday night.

The Tigers will not win the league this season, likely their last in the CAC, as they have already lost two league games including last week's loss to undefeated Greater Lowell, but they are 6-3 overall and will still provide the Rams with a stiff test.

The Tigers will be without starting star quarterback Colin Halloran (16 TD passes this season) who broke his collarbone in last week's loss to Greater Lowell, but they will hardly be without their share of stars on the offensive side of the ball. Running back Shawn Miller has scored 18 touchdowns this season and has rushed for 855 yards, while receiver Sam Lovell also provides a scoring threat regardless of the quarterback with seven touchdown receptions and 382 receiving yards on the season.

Shawsheen has not defeated

Tyngsboro since the 2000 season, and Costabile would love to see that streak end this week, but he also knows that it would be foolish to chalk the game up in the win column just because of one player's absence.

"We would love to go up there on Friday night and get them," Costabile said. "But they are always tough. You can't go in there thinking it will be easy. They've got too many good players to think that way."

Mite Is

Saturday's Tewksbury Mite I youth hockey game against Lexington and Bedford started out as a nail biter with no goalie in the net for Tewksbury

When Lexington and Bedford scored in the first thirty seconds of the game it looked the Redmen were going to go down hard, but the team shook it off and came alive.

Awesome hustle both on offense and defense kept the puck out of Tewksbury's net. As the extra Defensemen out on the ice, Andrew Fisher owned the defensive zone thwarting several scoring attempts. Josh Duarte played strong not letting anyone by him. Sean Budryk made a nice save preventing Lexington and Bedford from taking a two goal lead. Andrew Duarte skated hard up and down the ice keeping LB's touches to a minimum. With the first period ticking down, Dario Riparo ties it up with assists from Jonathan Verrill and Stephen Tyner.

At the start of the second the net was no longer empty. Thomas McKenna stepped up to the plate looking very comfortable between the pipes. No pucks found their way past Thomas that period. Pumped up by their new goaltender, Tewksbury went on a tear.

Domenic Raneri was right in there assisting as well. Lexington and Bedford's goalie was no match for Jonathan Verrill and Connor Blair. Jonathan picks the top corner after a nice feed from Connor. Several minutes later Connor turns on the speed getting the puck down in the offensive zone. Jonathan Verrill was there to collect a pass from Zach Duarte and put it home for his second of the game.

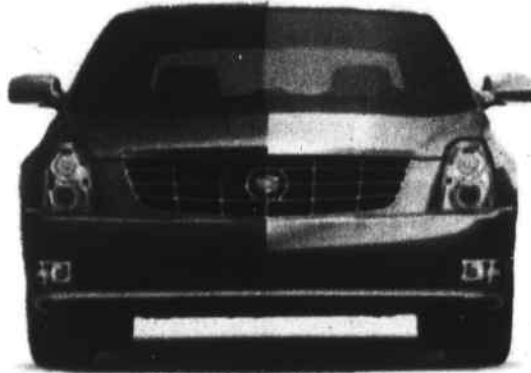

More action in the third as Chris Carter and Andrew Fisher turn it on stealing the puck away from Lexington and Bedford and getting it to Domenic Raneri who lights up the board for Tewksbury's fifth goal. With only eight seconds left in the game, Jonathan Verrill scores his first hat trick of the season with an assist from Josh Duarte. The Redmen win 6-2. Hats off to Thomas for doing a great job in net!

Dreams are taking shape at the Reading site for Habitat for Humanity

By PAUL FEELY

The dreams of two families have been taking shape along Governors Drive in Reading these past few months, as hundreds of volunteers from Habitat for Humanity have been showcasing how the hard work of many can transfer the hopes of a few into homes.

The process has been a long one, but after three years of waiting, Tanya and Joe Dion have seen their foundation installed on Governor's Drive, located just off Salem Street (Route 129) near the Registry of Motor Vehicles in Reading. Joe and Tanya and their sons Caleb (7) and Mason (3) are one of two families who won the lottery for a Habitat for Humanity House, after the Dions were one of five families who applied for the house. After filling out the paperwork, Habitat interviewed them and the Habitat Board made a decision to award them one of the homes.

"We want to have a home of our own and a chance for a better life for our children. This is a nice town with good schools and wonderful families," Tanya explained in an interview with the Reading Daily Times Chronicle.

The second family, the Maziarz, have been living in Reading for over three years on Lakeview Ave. They have four children, ages 7 - 18 and have been in a cramped apartment since leaving Krakow, Poland in 2002. Malgorzata, the mother, works in the cafeteria at the Killam School.

The project has featured a large contingent of volunteers from the Middlesex East area.

According to a press release, every Tuesday, a group of area volunteers has risen at the crack of dawn, packed up their tools, and take on the commuter traffic of Route 128 or Route 93 to get to their place of work, Governor's Drive in Reading. "Initially, they hacked their way into two wooded lots, set up a siltation fence and over a period of a few weeks, they took down over 100 trees, the largest over 22" in diameter. They have framed two houses for people they had never met and haven't been paid a cent for all their work," as the release states.

They are the Tuesday crew of Habitat For Humanity of Greater Lowell. Primarily they are a group of retirees, giving back and doing a job they believe needs to be done. They hail from Andover, Bedford, Billerica, Chelmsford, Concord, Lexington, Lowell, Reading, Wakefield, and Wilmington.

"Most are just home handy-men who have learned the construction skills working on their own homes. Some are just trying to gain skills. The group numbers around 22, with half of the group brand new on this Reading Project. But for many, this project represents only two of the more than 18 homes they have built. The group includes 4 ladies, who more than hold their own with the men. They work from 8:00-12:00 with a coffee break at 10:00."

"Right now, they're installing the windows and exterior doors and building all the interior walls. They're hoping to button up the home before the cold weather comes. Siding, sheet rock, interior doors, painting, kitchen/bathroom cabinets will follow shortly. Hopefully, the homes will be ready their partner families in the Spring," states the release.

Why do they do it? Ask any one of them, and the rewards they list will be as varied as the individuals themselves.

"The biggest reason to me is the real satisfaction in seeing the new owners taking possession of their property. It is worth the accumulated aches, pains, blisters, bruises, scrapes with Band-Aids, and banded fingers to see the smiles on their faces." - Bill Hooper, Wilmington, proud member of the Tuesday Crew. "At 81 years of age, I do find myself slowing down a little more each year!"

"My experience with the Over the Hill Gang on Tuesdays has been unconditionally positive. I've seldom met a nicer group of characters. It's like going to carpentry school each week and when I do a procedure, I don't have to worry about malpractice claims." - Dr Bob Shirley, Winchester

"As far as getting involved with Habitat, like so many people, I have been intrigued by Habitat for years but didn't think I had the time to devote to it. Habitat construction started up in the town next door to mine just as I was experiencing an empty nest for the first time, so the timing seemed right to get involved. There's a lot of good energy among the volunteers, and I'm learning that there are fun opportunities to be involved beyond building houses - like the gingerbread house exhibition/sale or the Hike for Humanity fundraiser. It feels good to be helping in such a heart warming effort." - Lyn Chaharyn, Wakefield

"BORAT" FUNNIEST MOVIE OF THE YEAR

IN THIS PHOTO PROVIDED BY TWENTIETH CENTURY FOX, Kazakhstani TV talking head Borat (Sacha Baron Cohen) is dispatched to the United States to report on the greatest country in the world in "Borat."

"BORAT: CULTURAL LEARNINGS OF AMERICA FOR MAKE BENEFIT GLORIOUS NATION OF KAZAKHSTAN"

GRADE: ****

The sad part about "Borat", the formerly obscure character that got his start on the HBO hit "Da Ali G Show" (one of a trio of characters that British actor Sacha Baron Cohen portrays on the program), is that he may have to retire just as his career is taking off, a victim of his own fame.

Borat, Kazakhstan's "finest" journalist, tells viewers he will be traveling to America to learn about our culture in order to assist his homeland.

Presented documentary-style, the bulk of "Borat" chronicles his journey across the United States. It begins in New York City, with Borat interviewing a group of feminists. When he laughs at the suggestion that women are equal to men and mentions the scientific fact that their brains are smaller, the interview quickly ends.

Borat's plans undergo a sudden alteration after a chance encounter with an episode of "Baywatch" on his hotel TV. He immediately falls in love with Pamela Anderson and concludes that he must marry her.

When he discovers that she is across the country in Los Angeles, Borat decides that he will continue learning about America while driving across it to California. Along the way, Borat's antics include attending a fancy dinner party while receiving instructions on proper etiquette, singing Kazakhstan's national anthem at a rodeo and learning how to drive a car.

The details of his misadventures on his way west are not appropriate for a family newspaper. They also are not for the easily offended; the movie is rife with harsh, politically incorrect humor - racism, sexism, anti-Semitism, you name it - as well as crude sexual content and cruder humor.

In addition to the astonishing audacity of what Borat says and does - Cohen's act is a put-on, designed to skewer the insulting and downright false notions the character spouts

- it is remarkable to hear what people say knowing full well that they are speaking to a camera.

Because that's the true brilliance of the movie - the only ones in on the joke are Borat (Cohen) himself, and the so-called documentary crew. Everyone else, all the Americans he encounters on the way, believed they were being filmed for a documentary to air in Kazakhstan, and yet they still acted this way.

One man at the rodeo tells him to shave his mustache because he "looks like all the Muslim terrorists." A gun store employee does not miss a beat when Borat asks for the best gun to kill members of a certain ethnic group, as if the question is common.

The means may be outrageous, but the results speak volumes about people's attitudes on issues of race, culture, class and gender. It is hard at points to know whether to laugh until you cry, or cry until it hurts.

There are moments that go too far, even for Borat. A sequence at a bed-and-breakfast run by a kind old Jewish couple is excessively cruel, and not all of the jokes hit their target.

Still, "Borat" is easily the funniest movie of the year. At one showing this reviewer was present at, there were many moments where you couldn't hear some of the jokes because the audience was laughing so hard.

"THE PRESTIGE"

GRADE: ***

The title of this movie about magicians comes from the third part of an illusion. The first is the pledge, in which the magician tells the audience what they're going to see. The second is the turn, or the illusion, and then the third is the prestige, in which the magician carries things one step further - such

Certainly Wood's 20th Anniversary

As Certainly Wood, Reading prepares to enter its 20th year in business, it is fun to look back and see how the furniture industry has changed, and Certainly Wood has changed right along with it.

The term "Family Business" is the perfect description of Certainly Wood, owned and operated by Michael Howe, along with his wife Kathy, and sons Kevin and Tim.

When the Reading store first opened, customers were looking for pine bookcases, night stands or wall shelves, just something to compliment their existing room décor.

That is still a very important part of the business, but it suddenly became well known that at Certainly Wood you will find a huge selection of complete dining, bedroom, and office furniture. Wall units can be designed to fit most rooms large or small, all available in hardwoods for furniture that will last a lifetime.

A new addition to the showroom is kitchen and bathroom cabinets in 5 choices of wood and ready to finish in your color choice.

The furniture industry changes all of the time and this unique store is right there with the changes. The unfinished market is always on top of new trends and the pieces needed to accommodate these new styles are always being designed and customized to fit these needs. From computer armchairs to plasma tv cabinets, you will find it all at Certainly Wood.

Certainly Wood has a vast selection of unfinished furniture and the staining supplies you will need to do-it-yourself. You may choose to have our finishing shop finish your selections in the color of your choice.

The showroom also contains a great selection of finished furniture for the whole house or office. Beautiful pictures, decorative items, different lamps and lots of unique and different pieces set a display in the showroom that is hard to beat. You'll find many ideas for storage and for decorating in 2 floors of home furnishings.

Visit Certainly Wood soon at 39-41 Lincoln Street, Reading (Opposite the old railroad depot). It's a shopping experience you don't want to miss

REMEMBERING, RESPECTING, HONORING

Korea, Vietnam: Winchester

"Plans are in the works to improve - perhaps replace - the Honor Roll and the surrounding area, the Edward F. O'Connell Memorial Plaza," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The Board of Selectmen voted to add a plaza improvement project to the capital budget process."

"The plaza, at the corner of Mount Vernon and Washington Streets, was named for O'Connell at last fall's Town Meeting. Looking forward to the forthcoming dedication of the plaza, an ad hoc committee has been considering improving the area."

"The Honor Roll was built in 1963, replacing previous honor rolls erected for servicemen and women of the first and second world wars. Wings were added in 1978 for those who served in the Korean and Vietnam wars."

"The monument itself and the area are now judged to be in poor condition. 'The flagpole needs to be replaced,' Veterans' Agent Joseph Bonner reported. 'The woodwork requires substantial repair. The blue-stones are uneven, badly spaced, and present a dangerous walking surface.'"

"In addition, many of the letters on the Honor Roll are disintegrating due to age; as far as adding additional names, there is virtually no space remaining."

"The Memorial Committee asked the Design Review Committee (DRC) to evaluate the plaza and Honor Roll. The DRC prepared two designs for the layout of the plaza for discussion with the Memorial Committee which were shared with the Selectmen...."

"The history of the existing Honor Roll, adapted from an article published in the Daily Times in 2005, is available on the official Winchester website: Winchester.us/community-connection/military.html."

Memorial days and years: Stoneham

"Stoneham resident Fred Mosley's six-decade run on the Memorial Day Parade Committee ended as the Navy veteran relinquished his Chairman's gavel to his counterparts," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"According to the lifelong Stoneham resident, who surrendered the leadership role after overseeing this year's Memorial Day ceremonies at Town Hall, his almost 79-year-old body has just grown too tired for the responsibility."

"I'm running out of gas," he told fellow board members. "I started doing this in 1947. I think it's time for somebody else to step up."

"Reflecting on his nearly 60-year stint of service on the Memorial Day Parade

REUNIONS AND NEW UNIONS

Attention Class of '81

"Pope John XXIII High School Class of 1981 is planning its 25th Class Reunion on Saturday, November 25, 2006 at the Bellevue Golf Club, 320 Porter Street, in Melrose, MA," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"The time of the reunion is 7 p.m. to midnight."

"Tickets are $75.00 per person."

"It is an honor to welcome you and your children to the 2006-2007 school year," notes Dr. Christine McGrath in the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"As I begin my 16th year as Superintendent of the Tewksbury Public Schools, I find myself as excited and challenged as the day that began my tenure on July 1, 1991."

"Our school district, like many school districts across the Commonwealth, has experienced the effects of the reductions in Chapter 70 aid from the State and the reduction in local funding. These are challenging times. We will continue to work hard to meet these challenges."

"Representatives from the School Committee and the school administration continue to work with the Town Manager, the Board of Selectmen, and the Finance Committee to develop long term plans to address the significant 'short fall' in our funding sources. During a recent meeting this group agreed to recommend to the respective Boards that funds be committed to a reinstatement of a school bus and the hiring of three additional elementary teachers."

"These funds will eliminate the need for certain high school students to walk up to 1.5 miles to school on some streets that do not have sidewalks. Funding for the additional faculty will ensure that our elementary class sizes in Kindergarten through grade four will not exceed 30 students at the start of this school year."

"We are most grateful for this support. We accept this support with the understanding that the Town has many critical needs. We are also accepting this support with the understanding that these additional revenues may not be available to us as we develop our budget for the 2007-2008 school year."

"The faculty, staff, and the administration of the Tewksbury Public Schools remain committed to our mission to challenge, prepare and have high expectations for all students and to support their development as productive members of society with a commitment to lifelong learning. We believe in this mission...."

A good fit in North Reading

"When school buses rolled up to the front door of North Reading High School on Wednesday, Sept. 6, even ninth graders who had never been in the building before had no trouble spotting assistant principal Ed Rozmiarek," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"At six feet, six inches in height, Rozmiarek is hard to miss."

"Rozmiarek is still settling into his new job as assistant principal at NRHS, replacing veteran Robert Pesce, who retired after 34 years at the school."

"When the students meet Rozmiarek, they find an enthusiastic, gregarious educator who's excited to be here and looking forward to making a difference."

"Rozmiarek was chosen from 54 applicants for the position. This is his second job as a high school administrator, having served the last two years as assistant principal at Mansfield High School."

"Rozmiarek has had two careers, first as a teacher and then as a lawyer practicing bankruptcy law in Boston. He regards his law career as a 10-year diversion from his original career, edu-

On Sunday afternoon, November 12 at 2 p.m. Sandy Cash will complete her 2006 USA east coast tour at Temple Emmanuel in Wakefield. This show is open to the public who enjoys hearing live music done well. It is not a concert of religious music, but rather an eclectic mix of contemporary folk. Sandy Cash sings songs that cover a wide range of material and is beautifully written, thoughtful and poetic.

Sandy Cash, born in Detroit, originally dreamed of a career on Broadway when she was a little girl. Circumstances and her dreams changed and for over 10 years, Sandy has been one of the most popular performers on the Israeli "Anglo" entertainment circuit, catering to Israel's large community of English speaking immigrants.

COFFEEHOUSE PRESENTS THE A CAPPELLA

The Cornerstone Coffeehouse located in the Second Congregational Church of Winchester, 485 Washington Street, presents an a cappella night on Saturday, November 18. The featured performers for the evening are the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's all-male a cappella group, the Logarithms. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and the show starts at 8.

Founded in 1949, the Logarithms (also known as the Logs) are the oldest a cappella group at M.I.T. and the only all-male group on campus. Founded as a primarily barber-shop ensemble, the Logs have transformed in the last several years, making the transition from barbershop to more modern music, incorporating instrumental imitation and vocal percussion into the music.

The Logs have been very successful over the past few years, with tracks selected to the Best of College A Cappella (BOAC) compilation on 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Opening the program will be the Winchester High School Octets, under the direction of Ms. Sabrina Quintanna. Local celebrities in the Winchester area, they perform both contemporary hits and old favorites using close knit harmonies.

Tickets are available at the door, $15 for adults, $10 for students and seniors. Coffee, tea and a variety of desserts are available. For more information call 781-729-1688 or www.wgis.net/~swartz/cornerstone/.

Habitat, in partnership with covenant churches, volunteers, local communities, and partner families, renovates, builds affordable houses for families living in substandard condition and supports families during the early stages of home ownership to assist them in becoming responsible homeowners.

In 1991 a few individuals in Lowell, Mass. founded Habitat for Humanity of Greater Lowell, one of hundreds of Habitat affiliates around the world. Habitat International has constructed over 200,000 houses that became homes for hundreds of thousands of partner family members since its inception in the late 70's. The concept of "partner families" is key to the endeavor since the families must commit to training, education, and sweat equity in order to participate.

Since its beginning in 1991, Lowell Habitat has built or renovated 13 houses in Lowell, 2 in Billerica, 1 in Westford and 2 in Concord. The organization's latest endeavor is to start two single-family homes in Reading in Spring 2006.

Movies

to talk to scientist Nikola Tesla (David Bowie, in a role that seems tailor-made for him) about a machine that Tesla built for Alfred. The film skips around a lot, time-wise, and eventually we see Alfred being tried for murder.

Rupert tries to use his assistant (Scarlett Johansson) to go undercover and find out the secret to one of Alfred's amazing illusions. Both younger magicians have connections with a wise illusion designer, Cutter (Michael Caine), who helps Rupert create the trick in his own way.

The movie unfolds in much the same way as a magic trick does. The characters are set up, and then they pledge to do their utmost to get the best of each other. We get to know each magician - Rupert, whose new assistant has eyes for him, the moody Alfred whose instability seems to be driving his frightened, frustrated wife into madness.

The acting is terrific. Caine, as always, is great as the wise veteran whose advice should be heeded. Jackman seethes as Rupert, who is driven to avenge his wife's death. Bale gives his character just the right intensity to be both terrifying and mesmerizing.

When the movie opens, a narrator asks "Are you watching closely?" You should. Wander out to the concession stand and you'll be lost. Buy your popcorn in advance and settle in to enjoy Christopher Nolan's sleight of hand.

"FLAGS OF OUR FATHERS" GRADE: ***

Very few directors could get away with making a movie that idolizes the soldiers who fought at Iwo Jima while debunking traditional notions of heroism, but Clint Eastwood is one of them. "Flags of Our Fathers" honors the men of the Greatest Generation while reminding us that heroic stories always involve a lie or two.

Who says you can't be in 10 Places at once?!

Greer's joins Century 21 group

Seven independently-owned and operated CENTURY 21 companies recently merged to form CENTURY 21 Commonwealth, showcasing an expanded, and experienced agent base, broader service offerings, and more powerful marketing and training resources.

As one of ten Group Presidents, Robert Winsor of CENTURY 21 Greers in Wakefield is still independently-owned and operated, serving the community since 1977. As one of the original CENTURY 21 New England offices, the Greers team in Wakefield is poised for growth and is proud to be building its business as a partner in the biggest independently-owned and operated residential real estate company in Massachusetts.

A lifelong Wakefield resident and public school graduate, Robert Winsor served his country in the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam, refining his leadership skills as staff sergeant before returning to Wakefield and becoming licensed in both real estate and insurance, managing two businesses until the insurance agency was sold.

In 1977, Greers Real Estate was one of the first charter offices of CENTURY 21 in New England, and has consistently been recognized for its success since its founding. Winsor's passions are training and motivating people, and regularly attends high-profile motivational training sessions to keep energized.

A born leader, Winsor has served as past president of the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors, chaired professional committees on the state and local level, and served as the Mass. Association of Realtors as both regional and state director. He also was elected to represent the CENTURY 21 New England franchisees as national representative for two terms.

In the community, Winsor's leadership is endless, from a 15-year stint running the community's family Halloween event (2500 attendees) to leadership roles with the town's board of assessors, girls' softball league, Center Neighborhood Association, Main Street Program, Citizen's Scholarship Fund, and a 20 year member of the Wakefield Rotary Club, who selected Bob as Citizen of the Year in 1995, and a similar award followed by the ARC of Eastern Middlesex and the Wakefield Elks. His community achievements continue, from the American Red Cross to the YMCA and dozens of others.

As group president, Robert Winsor is an owner of CENTURY 21 Commonwealth, a full-service real estate company providing clients throughout New England with home-buying and selling advisory services, relocation, mortgage and other services. Agents are trained in the unique challenges of corporate relocation and employee transfer; residential, multi-family and condominium properties; new construction and custom homes, renting, and more.

CENTURY 21 Commonwealth's website lists individual offices, community facts, and more at www.commonmoves.com <<http://www.commonmoves.com>

Furnace From S-9

Premium furnaces offer unique high-tech solutions to provide high efficiency and comfort. By modulating the gas valve from 35 to 100 percent (similar to turning up the burner on a gas stove) and varying the speed of the system's indoor fan, modulating furnaces compensate for the outdoor weather to keep the house warm, comfortable and quiet.

Some modulating furnaces, including the Coleman Echelon modulating variable-speed furnace from Johnson Controls, are rated at 95 percent AFUE and are equipped with an additional efficiency feature: an electronically commutated motor or ECM.

The ECM offers nearly continuous gradual fan speed operation for fewer stops and starts. The Echelon modulating furnace is up to 24 times quieter than conventional single-stage furnace systems and may use less energy than a 100-watt light bulb, while standard blower motors, on average, consume nearly 500 watts.

To learn more about high-efficiency Coleman Echelon furnaces, go online and visit www.colemanac.com or call 877-874-7378.

The Revolving Museum in Lowell will exhibit a portion of the American Visionary Art Museum's ground breaking, internationally acclaimed "Race, Class, Gender (does not equal) Character" exhibit, running from November 4 to February 4 in the museum's main gallery.

The exhibition is a riveting collection of paintings, sculptures, and mixed-media pieces that convey the message that, just as a book cannot be judged by its cover, a person's character cannot be judged by race, class, gender, politics, nationality, religion or other broad associations.

The Revolving Museum is located at 22 Shattuck Street in Lowell. Telephone number is 978-yes-arts or on-line at www.revolvingmuseum.org.

EVENING WITH NOVELIST NORMAN G. GAUTREAU

On Tuesday, November 14 at 7 p.m. author Norman G. Gautreau will visit the Evening Book Group at the Flint Memorial Library, 147 Park Street, North Reading, to discuss his novel, "Island of First Light."

As with his first novel, Sea Room, Island of First Light, is set in Downeast Maine. It centers on three island residents who endure hardship and find redemption. It is about human nature and the sense of family that everyone searches for when faced with adversity.

Joanne Wilkerson, writing in Booklist, says Gautreau succeeds "with his seemingly effortless evocation of the island setting and the touching emotional journey and authentic verbal ties of his downeasters."

Mr. Gautreau worked for many years as a management consultant and public speaking coach. He received the 2003 Massachusetts Book Award for his first novel "Sea Room."

The event is part of the "Friends Expanding Horizons" series and is free and open to the public. Copies of Mr. Gautreau's books will be available for signing. For more information please call the library at 978-664-4942.

From S-3

Committee, Mosley's biggest concern is that the annual remembrance for fallen members of the armed services will fade away along with the group's aging membership.

"And while the Stoneham native realizes that he no longer has the energy required to assume the difficult task of organizing the event, he vowed that he'll traverse the town's cemeteries with an armload of American flags until the end.

"I'll stay a member of the committee as long as I can walk," the retired Chairman commented in a recent interview. "This year I probably put out a good 30-dozen flags. But it means a lot to people."

"I'd like to see more of the younger veterans get involved. But I realize that they're much younger and busier. We'll just do it as long as we can. But what happens then?" Mosley worried.

"First joining the town-sponsored group after his discharge from the Navy in 1947, the former Disabled Veterans' Commander saw his participation as a way to connect with his father, a World War I veteran himself.

"Back then, Mosley recalls, the ceremony surrounding the Memorial Day Parade preparations were performed with a military-style precision...."

and Korea. They haven't been changed since 1969. "A plan for the exterior of the building that was a part of the school's original design was changed when it was discovered that maintenance of the cabinet like memorial would be too difficult. The new design calls for a large clear plaque to be placed on the exterior wall entering into the building. The final design that will be on the plaque is now being worked out by a task force of design consultants and local veteran's groups.

"We want to put the memorial back into Reading Memorial High School," Schettini said....

October 27, 2006

Dear Friends:

This year, I am proud to serve our community as President of the Wilmington Rotary Club. The Wilmington Rotary Club has provided 61 years of service to the Town of Wilmington, and it is my privilege and pleasure to continue this tradition for 2006/2007.

Over the past 61 years, the Wilmington Rotary Club has provided public service to the Town of Wilmington by virtue of such projects as the Christmas Project, Food Baskets for the Elderly, Lifelines for the Elderly, Blood Drives, 4th of July Dinners and continued Rotary park improvements.

Over the past 20 years, however, the Wilmington Rotary Club has made its largest impact on the Town through the awarding of scholarships to deserving Wilmington residents graduating from high school. As a club, we are extremely proud of the fact that we have donated over $300,000.00 in scholarships. Our scholarship program currently consists of the Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarships, the Claire M. Peterson Memorial Scholarships and the Lawrence Cushing Memorial Scholarships.

The Wilmington Rotary Club cannot maintain its current level of community support without your help. Therefore, I am writing to you at this time seeking your participation in this year's Wilmington Rotary Club Charity Auction. Our TV auction will be televised live on WCTV on Thursday evening, November 16, 2006. Our live auction will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on School Street in Wilmington on Friday, November 17, 2006. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Please make every effort to assist us by purchasing an auction item from the TV auction and by attending the live auction.

With your continued support of the Wilmington Rotary Club charities, I am supremely confident that the good deeds of the Wilmington Rotary Club can continue for many years to come.

Very truly yours,

John J. Vassallo

Dear Friends of the Wilmington Rotary Club:

On behalf of the Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarship Fund Trust, and the entire membership of the Wilmington Rotary Club, I would like to thank each and every one of you for your continued support of the Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarship Fund and the Wilmington Rotary Club charities.

I am proud to report that your support of the Wilmington Rotary Club and, in particular, your support of our annual auction, has allowed the Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarship Fund Trust to distribute over $300,000.00 in scholarship funds since 1988. These scholarships, which have all been distributed to Wilmington residents, have helped fund the college educations of more than 120 students.

As the Chairman of the Rotary Club Scholarship Fund Trust, I would like to extend my best wishes to all of this year's recipients as they begin their college careers. I also look forward to many more successful years of Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarships.

In closing, I would ask each and every one of you to continue your unwavering support of the Wilmington Rotary Club through your participation in our annual auction. The success of our Club depends on the continued support and generosity of people like you. Thank you again.

Very truly yours,

Robert G. Peterson, Chairman

What is Rotary all about?

It's about service to the community, but it's also about fun

By VICTORIA ELLSWORTH

Founded in 1905, Rotary is made up of business and professional leaders working to better their community and build understanding and peace in the world. Rotary is a non-political, non-religious humanitarian organization. There are approximately 1.2 million Rotary club members of more than 32,000 Rotary clubs in 168 countries. Rotary strives to achieve its objective through activities in four primary areas. These are often referred to as the "Four Avenues of

"Service Above Self"

Donna Wayman: living the motto

By VICTORIA ELLSWORTH

For the Rotary Club of Wilmington, this year is one of particular honor. Long-time member, Donna J. Wayman, assumed the position of District Governor - the chief officer of a Rotary District - for the 2006-2007 year.

Wayman's commitment to Wilmington and to Rotary has deep roots. She grew up here in town, graduated from Wilmington High School in 1977, and made her home and business here.

Sponsored immediately after Rotary International voted to open membership to women, Wayman joined the Rotary Club of Wilmington in 1989. In her 17 years, she has served as president twice, first in 1995 - 1996 (becoming the Wilmington Club's first female president) and again in 2002 - 2003. When she took office, Wayman became the third District Governor to hail from the Wilmington Club, and the fourth female governor in the District.

Governors serve one year, providing leadership and guidance to help clubs strengthen the programs of Rotary throughout their districts. Typically, a district consists of about 45 clubs. Wilmington's District, #7930, contains 47 clubs throughout the Metro-Boston and North Shore area.

"It's quite a commitment," says Wayman. "I was nominated in August of 2003 and my training started once I was selected by the Nominating Committee. For the last six months, I've been involved with the planning of the District's Membership seminar, the Foundation seminar and the Annual Conference for my year. I've also been busy with the President-Elect trainings for this year's incoming presidents."

In addition to these District-wide events, Ms. Wayman will be traveling among the clubs, helping them with their fund-raising activities, installing new officers, inducting new members and acting as a representative of Rotary International's incoming president, William B. Boyd, and carrying his message out to the individual clubs.

"The theme for 2006 - 2007, 'Lead the Way', reflects Bill's belief in the power of Rotarians to change the world to a brighter future through fellowship and service," states Wayman. "In keeping with that theme, the District's focus for 2006-2007 will be on water management, literacy, health and hunger, and the family of Rotary. We will also be supporting a Rotoplast mission (surgery for children born with cleft lip and cleft palate) in Columbia and the continued efforts to eradicate polio by the year 2008."

With nearly 1.2 million Rotarians world wide, another goal is to promote peace and goodwill. "Our Group Study Exchange (GSE) program and our Ambassadorial Scholarships go a long way to fostering understanding among the world's countries." Wayman enthusiastically, "I love Rotary - what it does and what it stands for. It's a great organization and a great way to give back to the community."

Rotarian Mary Whitney got a kiss from her grandson Dylan Timmons during the Rotary Club's annual Dinner on the Common, which the club puts on as part of the 4th of July festivities.

Rotary Foundation honors significant supporters

By Lisa Baker and Vukoni Lupa-Lasaga

Rotary International News
2 November 2006

Four Major Donors were inducted into the Arch C. Klumph Society at Rotary International World Headquarters in November. Induction into the society, named after RI's sixth president whose vision inspired the establishment of The Rotary Foundation, is a valued recognition.

Inductees included Lucinda W. and Richard W. Kasperson, Ron D. and Jetta Burton, Edward and M. Patricia Blender, and John Hoich. Their portraits now permanently hang in the Arch C. Klumph Gallery, which honors couples and individual donors whose cumulative gifts to the Foundation total US$250,000 or more.

RI President Bill Boyd, President-elect Wilf Wilkinson, General Secretary Ed Futa, RI directors, Foundation trustees, and several other Rotary leaders attended the events. Foundation Trustee Chair Luis Vicente Giay inducted the Kaspersons, both members of the Rotary Club of Northbrook, Illinois, USA, into the society on 25 October.

"Lucinda and Dick lead by example. Although it probably never occurs to them, they have left Rotarian footprints on countless lives," Giay said. "Lucinda and Dick, you have made President Arch Klumph's dream a reality. That's why this is a great day for us and The Rotary Foundation."

"The best part of Rotary is working together to make a difference," said Lucinda Kasperson.

"It has been fun watching Lu enjoy herself doing Rotary's work," said Dick Kasperson. "It has been a great pleasure to make a donation to The Rotary Foundation."

Trustee Ron and Jetta Burton, of the Rotary clubs of Norman and Norman-Cross Timbers, Oklahoma, USA, were inducted on 26 October, also by Giay. "Ron and Jetta will influence fellow Rotarians by the example they set," he said. "They have been instrumental in Klumph's mission."

The Burtons are aides to Boyd and his wife, Lorna. "They're prepared to do something to make the world a better place," said Boyd, "and I'm proud to be in a Rotary that includes Ron and Jetta Burton."

As he stepped up to the podium, Burton joked, "We tried all kinds of ways to contribute the money, with cash, securities, and anything else you can think of." In a more serious tone, he added, "We are delighted to do what we have been able to do."

Boyd commended Eddie Blender, of the Rotary Club of Edwards/Vail Down Valley, Colorado, USA, and his wife, Patti, at their induction on 27 October.

"They are tremendous," Boyd said. "I don't know anyone with such bouncing enthusiasm and energy."

For Past District Governor Eddie Blender, who recently was appointed chair of the Rotary Centers Major Gifts Initiative and has endowed a Rotary World Peace Fellowship, the induction was an opportunity to highlight the urgency of raising $95 million for the Rotary Centers program.

"This is the one program that will make [peace] happen," he said. "Two hundred students have already graduated and are out working for Rotary. Peace is possible."

John Hoich, of the Rotary Club of Omaha-Suburban, Nebraska, USA, was inducted on 28 October. "I love Rotary, I love the people in Rotary, and I love the works we all do," he said after the event. "My gift to Rotary and my 26 years of perfect attendance have been the greatest accomplishments of my life."

Beth Ananian and her mother Betty looked at the scholarship certificate she received from the Wilmington Rotary club on June 14th.

Pakistan honors Rotary's quake relief efforts

By Vukoni Lupa-Lasaga

Rotary International News
30 October 2006

The government of Pakistan has announced an award to recognize Rotary's swift response to the plight of survivors of a 7.6-magnitude earthquake, the worst in the country's history.

More than 75,000 people were killed and 3.5 million left homeless by the devastating quake that ripped through the North-West Frontier province and Pakistani-administered Kashmir in October 2005.

As soon as news of the disaster broke, local and international Rotary clubs rushed emergency relief to hundreds of thousands of affected people. District 3270 (Afghanistan; Pakistan) set up a disaster relief account to accept donations from concerned Rotarians and friends. Food, blankets, medicine, and tents were among the donated items that Rotarians sent and helped distribute to survivors.

RI President Bill Boyd, who was president-elect at the time, traveled to Pakistan in December to comfort survivors and convey the sympathies of the world's Rotarians to the Pakistani people and government. He also aimed to find out firsthand how Rotarians could help with long-term rebuilding efforts.

The Rotary world has contributed more than US$5 million in cash and in-kind donations to assist survivors. More than $200,000 was directly donated into subaccounts. The Rotary Foundation established in early 2006 to support earthquake disaster recovery efforts in Pakistan, the worst-hit country, and affected parts of India.

"Rotarians in Pakistan feel tremendous pride in receiving this award because this is the first time that the efforts of Rotary in Pakistan have been properly recognized," says Muhammad Faiz Kidwai, immediate past governor of District 3270, who coordinated the relief efforts. "This will positively contribute in improving the image of Rotary in Pakistan."

Pakistani President Pervez Musharraf will present the award, officially called Sitara-e-Eisar (the Star Award for Courage and Sacrifices), to Rotary International in February.

Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships

WILMINGTON - Each year, Rotary District 7930 (of which the Wilmington club is a member) sponsors one or more Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships.

Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships present a tremendous opportunity for the right person to receive a $26,000 scholarship to study at a university in a foreign country. In return, the scholar becomes an ambassador for Rotary for the USA, spreading the message of good will and world peace through understanding to everyone they encounter in their travels. Candidates for the scholarship cannot be Rotarians or their family members, must have completed two years of college and must have substantial roots in District 7930. Additional restrictions apply. Information for candidates can be found at the Rotary International website: www.rotary.org.

Most often, District 7930 supports one year academic scholarships. Two-year World Peace Scholarships are very competitive (Rotary International chooses 70 scholars worldwide), but available and funded through The Rotary Foundation. A Cultural Scholarship may or may not be available and is at the discretion of the District Governor each year.

Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships candidates must fully complete their application and then submit it to their hometown club by June 15th. The club will then interview the candidate(s) and decide whether or not to sponsor him or her.

Each club may only sponsor one candidate per year. If two superb candidates are identified, another club within the District may be approached for sponsorship. Once a decision is made to sponsor a candidate, the club assigns a club member to be a sponsor counselor to help the candidate through the rest of the process.

The club then forwards the application packet to the Outbound Scholarship Chair by July 15 for the following academic year. Next, the District interview committee, which meets in August, will select one or more candidates to recommend to the Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees. The number of candidates the District chooses depends upon the amount of funding available and on the quality of the candidates.

The Rotary Foundation has the final decision as to which candidates become scholars and assigns that candidate to one of the five countries that the candidate has chosen in his or her application. If approved, the candidates will receive formal notification by the end of December. The scholar must then attain admission to that school.

The District 7930 interview committee looks first and foremost for scholars who will be great ambassadors for Rotary. In addition, candidates should be academically accomplished, outgoing, confident, engaging, knowledgeable about Rotary, comfortable abroad and have a strong history of, and interest in, service above self.

Service": Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service, and International Service.

In Wilmington, Massachusetts, more than fifty men and women volunteer their time as Rotarians and practice Rotary's international motto: "Service above Self." While each Rotary club practices all four avenues of service, the Wilmington Club's true strength is Community Service.

"Our Club has been very active in community service," states Club President John Vassallo.

Rotary Park at the corner of Church Street and Adelaide Road is among the projects the Rotary Club of Wilmington has taken on. Each year, the Club cleans up the Park, plants flowers and shrubbery, and makes various improvements to the park. For instance, the Club installed lighting around the pond and a new gazebo next to the ball field.

Less visible, but equally important contributions made by the Club include monthly food baskets donated to needy senior citizens; and making Lifeline, the medical alert system that enables seniors to live in their own homes with independence and confidence, available to those who cannot afford it.

Investing in Wilmington's youth is always a priority for the Club. Each year, in conjunction with the Wilmington Rotary Club Scholarship Trust, the Club gives scholarships to students residing in Wilmington who are seniors in high school and who are going on to higher educational pursuits. In the past 15 years, the club has given over $300,000 in scholarships.

In addition to helping with educational needs, Rotarians help out with other needs as well. Through its Christmas Project, Wilmington Rotary helps local families in need enjoy their holidays.

"Club members adopt a child or a family and give new clothing - inside and out, from top to bottom," says one member. "I get as much joy from shopping for my adopted child as I do for my own nieces and nephews. I really look forward to this project every year."

When asked how the Rotary club funds the projects and scholarships, Vassallo replies, "The Rotary Auction and $10K Raffle is really where we raise most of the money used to support these projects. We also raise money with an annual Vacation Raffle and with Dinner on the Common during the Town's week-long Fourth of July Celebration."

If you would like to find out more about the Rotary Club of Wilmington, check out the Club's website at www.wilmingtonrotary.org.

Lexie Kelley, age 6 1/2 of Wilmington enjoyed a delicious ear of corn during the Rotary Club's Dinner on the Common during the 4th of July festivities.

Rotary supports Kenya's response to new polio threat

By Vukoni Lupa-Lasaga

Rotary International News
1 November 2006

Rotary International's role as a spearheading partner of the Global Polio Eradication Initiative often requires a rapid response to emergencies.

In October, for example, the government of Kenya reported a case of polio in a three-year-old girl, the first case of the disease in Kenya since 1984. To help address the risks of the poliovirus spreading across the country, Rotary Foundation Trustee Chair Luis Vicente Giay approved a US$350,000 rapid response grant.

The grant was announced on 17 October, a few days after the initiative confirmed news that the child, who lives with her parents at a refugee camp in Daadab, Garrisa, near the border of Somalia, had been diagnosed with polio. Rotary's contribution, channeled through the World Health Organization, will support emergency Subnational Immunization Days (SNIDs) targeting communities in north-eastern Kenya.

According to Parmindar Lotay, a volunteer with the Kenya National PolioPlus Committee, Rotary and its partners in the Global Polio Eradication Initiative have been worried since last year by news of imported polio transmissions in the East African region and the Arabian Peninsula, especially in Ethiopia, Somalia, Sudan, and Yemen.

"We have fairly porous borders with some of these countries," he says. Consequently, even when Kenya became polio-free, local Rotarians were mindful of the risks of reinfection from neighboring countries.

"Working with UNICEF, we also managed to carry out NIDs in neighboring war-torn countries or countries with civil unrest and displaced populations," Lotay notes. "Since we have been able to keep polio at bay for over 20 years, we are committed to do whatever has to be done to not only keep this dreadful disease out of Kenya but to kick it out of Africa."

Lotay is hopeful that the single case of polio, which is genetically linked with the virus circulating in Somalia, might become the catalyst for more concerted action among all of the affected countries. Already, he says, there is a sense of urgency in the planning and implementation of immunization activities because of the polio infections in neighboring countries.

"The World Health Organization, Kenya Expanded Program on Immunization, and other partners including Rotary decided to carry out immunizations against polio and measles towards the end of last year," he explains. In August and September, health officials and volunteers in Ethiopia, Kenya, and Somalia held coordinated SNIDs.

In the September immunization effort, close to 1 million children were targeted in Ethiopia, 240,000 in Kenya, and 1.7 million in Somalia. Scheduled SNIDs in early November will be coordinated among the contiguous border areas in the three countries.

The Horn of Africa Technical Advisory Group provides the framework for more efficient coordination among national health authorities and representatives of the Global Polio Eradication Initiative partners in the region.
